ROLL WITH IT. On Oct. 4, # 88 Colin Lakomek (8) roll tackles a player from Fall Creek, in the first home game of the season. The team took it easy that first game and won with a score of 44-0, which kicked off their winning streak and ultimately led to their second undefeated season. "We tried to work on the basics during the first game and make sure we have the technique down," Lakomek said. "It made it so we were ready to play harder teams. Every team we play against has a different challenge, but this one wasn't too bad." Photo by L. SHUPE

HIT AND RUN. During third period Wellness with Mr. Todd Hagemeyer, Luca Barbosa (7), Katie Green (7) and Jackson Weingart (7) all vie for the ball during a game of Sharbades. Throughout November, all Wellness classes played Sharbades, a combination of soccer and scooters, which proved to be dangerous at times. "Kids kept on running into each other all the time, so that was pretty funny," Green said. "If you got your clothing stuck under the wheel then it will rip a giant hole in it, it happened to another kid in my class." Photo by O. COOK

ENTIRE DAY.

BATTLING THE DARK
On Aug. 17, Lizzie Rider (8) attempts to open her locker in the dark V400 hallway, so she can put her things away and go to the high school. The power outage, which began during first period and lasted the entire day, was caused by damaged underground power lines. The entire eighth grade went to the high school for the rest of the day. 1. UP BEAT. During the game against Crawfords on Nov. 12, standing in the first row, Eli Manbeck (8) and the rest of pep band follow Dobe Phares' (8) lead as he guides them through a cheer. They played their instruments on and off throughout the game, so there was still room for other fun in between songs. "In pep band we play more upbeat songs that are more recognizable, but in regular band we play longer pieces," Manbeck said. "I prefer pep band because the songs are more energetic. I also get to hang out with my friends, one time we DoorDashed Jimmy Johns." Photo by A. ADELMAN 2. HOW LOW CAN YOU GO? On Feb. 22, Kaiden Khal (8) does the limbo as he parties with his friends at the dance in the cafeteria. After doing the limbo, Khal got in the middle of the dance floor with his friends, started dancing and had a crowd that cheered him on. "I really liked the music and how everyone was enjoying what was going on," Khal said. "My favorite part was that we were all together and had a good time." Photo by L. SHUPE 3. ORDER ON THE COURT. On Sept. 20, teammates Isabella Norris (7), Grace Feltz (7) and Cara Siedeker (7) celebrate after they score a point against Noblesville West. The volleyball team was up the whole game and won with a score of 2-0. "I think it was a pretty fair match up because they were our skill level, so it was really fun to play against them," Feltz said. "I'm always very energetic on the court because if you get energetic, your team gets energetic. You tend to win the point when you're excited." Photo by J. STONE

ACTING OUT. On Jan. 18, Owen Foreman (7), Preston Benson (7) and Emersyn Graham (7), members of Mrs. Megan Richard's SRT, try to mime a word in order to beat Mrs. Amber Anania's SRT in a game of Heads Up. The game was one of the final rounds of the Explorer team-wide competition of Heads Up. "I was acting out ringing out a towel in a match against Anania's SRT," Benson said. "We ended up winning by one point." Photo by A. MOTSINGER

"It's the semifinals," Caden Alexander (7) said. "Oh man, I was sweating. I was Diddy Kong. The other guys were just killing me and racking up damage. I didn't know what to do; I was so scared. But then a miracle happened. Someone accidentally unplugged the game. So we restarted with the lives we had from last round. I start at one life. Lucina starts at one life. And R.O.B starts at two lives. So as they're teaming on me, not even exaggerating a little bit, they're just wrecking me and going for me. And it was a painful moment, you know. I had trained since the last event, right. I'd worked hard. I'd practiced and all of it went to waste."

Alexander's practice with the Super Smash Bros. series started at a young age. "Around the age of four, I was visiting my mom's friends and then I just saw the Wii there," Alexander said. "I'm like, 'What is this?' and then she's like, 'Well, it's a Wii,' and then she pulls out a game called Super Smash Bros. Brawl and I was just ecstatic. I played for hours and hours."

On Nov. 28 the cafeteria turned into a gaming tournament arena for the last

Elite Gaming Live meet before the state tournament. There, players competed for the top spots in tournaments for Mario Kart, Super Smash Brothers and other games. For Liam Novak (7), Super Smash Bros. started out as just a fun game.

"I think I started gaming when I was like six or seven," Novak said. "We had a Wii, but I just didn't know how to play. I remember playing Super Smash Bros. Brawl with my brother, which was really fun. I played the character Snake a lot."

Alex Brown (8) found a different way to play Super Smash Bros. "I have Smash Bros. Brawl for the Wii," Brown said. "What was interesting about that was that it had a storyline, so it made it really interesting with perspectives. It made you think new ways which changed how you played the game. I think that it kind of made me think a little bit and gave me a new way to play as my characters."

DISCREET TO ELITE

A SHOCKING BLOW After the main event at the Nov. 28 Elite Gaming Live event, Liam Novak (7), Drew Lovelace (8) and Caden Alexander (7) sit at the game table to play a noncompetitive round of "Super Smash Bros." Lovelace won the match with a combination of moves that finished off the other players. "I did double up air into up B with Mario," Lovelace said. "It was alright, I'm used to losing that more in matches though." Photo by A. ADELMAN

HISTORY INFLUENCES STUDENT ART ANCIENT INSPIRATIONS

"I made my aborigine really meaningful. It was a circle and in the inner circle were women and on the outside, there were different forces trying to bring us down. Then, I put stars within the circle that were resembling that we always get back up. I loved how it turned out, it wasn't streaky and the lines were clean and straight."
- Isabel Holmes (7)

"I've watched a lot of old medieval things, so an elf came first to mind. I have a bow at home and I thought it would be great to put it with my elf. I spent a lot of time on it. I missed two days, but I still got it done. It looks very neat."
- Hayden Pentecost (7)

"Mrs. Van Matre has these books in class. I wanted to go off of the designs in the book of other people's pottery, like experts that make pottery for a living. It turned out pretty good. I liked how the colors looked and the designs I put on it."
- Logan Gustafson (8)

ELITE GAMING LIVE PLAYERS' VIDEO GAME HISTORY

1. A SMASH HIT. During the Nov. 28 Elite Gaming Live event, Alex Stone (8) focuses on his match. Stone played Super Smash Bros., where he and three other students competed to be the last one standing. "I was playing as Kirby and I was trying to turn into a brick and destroy someone," Stone said. "I don't concentrate then I was not going to win." Photo by C. GIBSON. 2. MATCH START. Signing up for the first Elite Gaming Live event on Oct. 10 in the West LGL, Noah Flynn (7) types his information into the tablet along with the games he wanted to compete in. EGL focuses more on the competitive aspect of gaming, which was the big draw for Flynn. "I was really excited because it was the first time I had actually played video games competitively and I wanted to do well," Flynn said. Photo by C. KESSLER. 3. DRIFTING TO THE TOP. A heated match of Mario Kart in the cafeteria continues between Caden Alexander (7) and Brayden Billington (8) along with two other competitors on Nov. 28 as they both compete for the top spot in the tournament before state. Alexander was currently the top player in the school with a whopping 82.4 points, but Billington wasn't too far behind with a total of 63 points. "I was feeling very stressed because it was really close and I didn't know if I was going to be able to place high enough to move on," Billington said. Photo by A. ADELMAN

THE SEVENTH GRADE VOLLEYBALL TEAM WORKS TOGETHER ON AND OFF THE COURT

"It kind of helps when you're playing to know your teammate. It's easier to play as a team because you think better and you kind of know each other, so it's easier to be a good teammate."
- #20 middle blocker Molly Klopffenstein (7)

"Volleyball takes away some of the stress from starting seventh grade. I'm friends with a lot of my teammates still even though the season is over."
- #21 opposite Faith Foster (7)

"We were able to collaborate and talk to each other and know what was going on together since we've played together before. I set Ava Smith (7) the ball and she would know when to hit the ball."

KEEP YOUR FRIENDS CLOSE. During the Riverside Junior High game, #25 Zake Richardson (7) takes a shot while the score is still close. After just having received a pass from #3 Trey Buchanan (7), Richardson quickly tried to take a shot for his team because of how close the match was getting during the Nov. 23 game, until they eventually won 62-43. "I was going up for a layup but I was getting fouled after I got a pass from half court," Richardson said. "I made the shot though." Photo by C. CAMERON.

1. FOUL PLAY. As a player of the Riverside basketball team takes a free throw, #15 Armani Middlebrooks (7) and #33 Quinn Warren (7) watch, waiting to get into the game on Sep. 29. During the free throw, Middlebrooks started to think about what play he would do if the shot went in or missed. "If they made the shot then I would have taken it and passed to our point guard and if it missed I would have boxed out and tried to get the rebound," Middlebrooks said. "I think it missed in the end but another teammate got the ball." Photo by C. CAMERON. 2. A CRITICAL SHOT. #42 Isaac Chapman (7) takes a shot during the Nov. 27 game against Riverside Junior High. After he receiving a pass from #5 Owen Foreman (7) he proceeded to make a shot that helped them win the match at 54-37. "I made the shot after I got a pass from Owen," Chapman said. "It was during a close match to, so it was important I made it." Photo by C. CAMERON. 3. END OF THE BEGINNING. Leading the pack, #24 Trent DeCrane and other players do a basic warm up at the final tryouts for the 7th Boys' Basketball team on Oct. 24. DeCrane ultimately made the team against the odds of 80 other players. "I was pretty sure I was going to make it but you can never be completely sure," DeCrane said. Photo by K. ROBERTS

CCR STUDENTS PLAN FOR THE READY FOR THE FUTURE FUTURE

"I want to take Spanish 1 in high school so I can go into Purdue. I want to get into Purdue so I can become a science teacher."
- Delaney Binford (7)

"In high school I want to take recreational activities, nutrition, wellness, and AP Geography and World History. I intend to go to Duke because of the sports program and I want to go into engineering, specifically technology engineering."
- Luke Gher (8)

"I'm going to take Spanish so I can get into college. It's probably going to be Indiana University or Missouri State University. I'm a Housier fan and I've always wanted to play at IU, but my favorite sports coach went to Missouri so I want to go play for him. I don't really have a career for that though."
- Brayden Hibler (7)

THE INSIDE SCOOP ON HOBBIES

Contents by A. MOTZINGER and A. CROSSY
Design by R. BARRETT and K. ROBERTS

WE'VE GOT HOBBIES

4. CHEER YOUR HEART OUT. Cheerleader at ICE Indy cheer, Gianna Roman (8) stands with her team mates holding her up. Roman started cheer seven years ago and has enjoyed the training. "I have good coaches at ICE, we usually win at competitions and I know I am getting the best training," Roman said. 5. TIME TO DANCE. Performing with her dance troupe, dancer Kayleah Hoying (7), on the right, tap dances during one of her performances. Over the years, Hoying has enjoyed dancing at G. Scotten Talent Center. "I like dancing because it helps me relieve stress," Hoying said. "I've danced for 10 years and have improved a lot by listening to my teachers, taking feedback and applying that feedback." Photos courtesy of pictured students

1. CRADLE, SHOOT, SCORE. On Apr. 15, lacrosse player Alex Dieckmeyer (8) runs with the ball while playing in a game against Catholic. Dieckmeyer and his team ultimately won the game, a game that he's loved playing since fifth grade. "I like lacrosse because you get to hit people," Dieckmeyer said. 2. FLIP OUT. Doing beam at Interactive Academy, Allison Beckwith (8) leaps into the air as she does her beam routine. Beckwith has done gymnastics since she was 3 years old, competed since she was 5 years old and still loves it. "I love competition, working hard and trying to be the best I can be," Beckwith said. 3. RUCK AND ROLL. Rugby player Max Davis (7) retrieves the ball from a tackle as he passes it back out to his teammates. Davis has played rugby for the past three years and his position is scrum half. "I am on one of the national teams for our age group," Davis said. Photos courtesy of pictured students

6. BAKE BOSS. Cake baker and decorator Lili James (8), enjoys baking desserts, especially cakes. "I like baking cakes because I have a larger area to decorate," James said. "I like to try new flavors and techniques." 7. KEY TO PIANO. Piano player, Shaia Kazmi (7), has played piano for many years and likes playing it for many reasons. "I like playing piano because it is calming, sounds really cool and I can play more advanced songs now that I've improved," Kazmi said. 8. PARTS OF ART. Artist Priya Mishra (7) likes all types of art, but her favorite thing to do is sketching. "I like sketching and shading because I feel like it's easier for me," Mishra said. "My favorite drawing was a converse shoe that I really liked." Photos courtesy of pictured students

SOCCER PLAYERS IMPROVE THEIR SKILLS AT INDY FIRE JUNIORS

"Over the years, I've gotten better at dribbling, passing, shooting and pretty much all around in soccer."
- Jake Kuper (8)

"Soccer is the only sport I've ever played. I think my coaches have helped me improve and I've learned how to work with a team better."
- Sam Degnan (8)

"Since I've been playing for IFJ, I've gotten better at skills like controlling the ball and being able to do different moves. I've also gotten faster."
- Sofia Carter (7)

TEACHERS' HOBBIES AFTER THE BELL

TIME ON THE FARM. Trailblazers Science teacher, Mr. Tom Waitt, owns a dairy farm and sells products in local grocery stores. "I enjoy farming because you are producing food for people to eat," Mr. Waitt said. "Farming keeps us busy because we milk twice a day, we grow crops, and we take care of things."

UP IN THE MOUNTAINS. In her free time, Spanish 1 teacher, Mrs. Lauren Smith enjoys hiking with her husband and dog. "I think hiking is a great stress reliever to be outdoors in nature," Mrs. Smith said. "I am also really passionate about the Earth and protecting it. Hiking just really lets me connect to that thing that I am passionate about."

TUMBLE TIME. Green Hornets Wellness teacher, Mrs. Jackie Donathen, does adult gymnastics at Kokomo Flipsters, where tumbling is her favorite event. "Gymnastics was always something that I thought was neat and I never really got the chance to do it when I was younger, so I'm doing it now," Mrs. Donathen said. "Tumbling is my favorite because it's fun to learn how to control your body while you're flipping in the air."

SPANISH 1 STUDENTS TEACH SPANISH SURVEY BASIC GREETINGS

Spanish 1

"Teaching was fun and we were able to get out of class. I was excited, but a little nervous because I didn't want to mess up. I learned how to be patient."
- Bree Detamore (8)

"I was excited because I like teaching people. We just kind of played games the whole time, and all of it was fun."
- Hannah Gallagher (8)

"I thought it would be fun because you get to teach other kids what you know. I had fun teaching them."
- Will Cummings (8)

Spanish Survey

"I was worried there would be someone I didn't like, but the Spanish 1 students were smart and they seemed like they knew what they were doing."
- Alexis Whiting (8)

"It kind of felt weird because it was my friends, but I was more focused since I'm used to talking with them."
- Alex Ruh (8)

"I thought having other students teach us was cool, but it was awkward too because you know these people and they're teaching you. It was a good change from normal classwork though."
- Ireland Whitaker (8)

1. TALKATIVE TEAMATES. On Sept. 20, Allie McKeown (8) and Annika Francis (8) talk during a match against Fishers. The team won the home match with a score of 165-128. "At the end when we counted our scores and found out we won, we got excited by jumping up and down," Francis said. Photo by A. CROSSY
2. PUTTER UP. At a golf match against Riverside on Sept. 18, Samantha Brown (7) puts the ball at the first hole. The Girls' Golf team won the match against Riverside 229-216. "I was putting because that is what you have to do in order to play," Brown said. "I thought I had a good season." Photo by A. JULIEN

THE GIRLS' GOLF TEAM SHOWS THEIR SUPPORT FOR EACH OTHER IN SEVERAL WAYS THROUGHOUT THE SEASON

A lot of teams have traditions they do before games, but Maren Dee (8) of the Girls' Golf team started the unique tradition of hand hugs, where one person hugs another person's hand with their own.

"Once I came up with the idea, I literally gave every single person a hand hug," Dee said. "It made everyone laugh because it was funny and got everyone pumped up."

Knowing that their teammates were there to help them and support them helped ease some players nerves. "I would get nervous, but when we were about start the match we would just have a good time and I would forget about my nerves," Allie McKeown (8) said. "At Pebble Brook, which was the conference match, I was really nervous, but we just did hand hugs like 50 times and wished each other good luck. That was when I shot my personal best, a 43, and got second overall."

The new golfers caught on quickly with how supportive the team was. Their parents were another factor in the world of golf other than teammates.

"I'm relatively new to golf," Claire Thompson (8) said. "I just started last summer. My parents would always freak out if I scored really well, and that made me excited too."

The girls used pep talks and hand hugs to get their spirits and confidence up before the conference match.

"It was against six teams, and we were all just going around saying how thankful we were and doing hand hugs the whole entire time before we did it," Gabby Grossman (8) said. "It just felt really good to know that the team had each other's backs."

SAFE AND SOUND

STUDENT IMPACT PROVIDES A SAFE PLACE FOR ALL

"I like being around everyone because they are so kind and nobody judges you. I feel like I can be myself there because it is a safe place and we're all friends. It makes me feel like we have more freedom. We like to play Uno Attack because it's just really fun and we all know it. Every time we play, we all laugh and have a lot of fun."
- Mac Whitesell (7)

"I usually go every Tuesday and Thursday because it's a fun, safe environment and the people are really fun to be with. It is safe because there are no bullies so you can be yourself and they won't judge you. There are policies that you have to be nice, no cursing and no touching each other."
- Makenzie Gretter (7)

"I like being able to play games like basketball with other people and learn more about them. There is no point in life if you can't find out new things."
- Tavian Tinney (7)

"I read Curious George to Daegan because we both enjoy reading books. He likes to look at the pictures as I read to him."
- Tayla Fitton (7)

"I like to do crafts and eat lunch with Mo because he's super funny and I enjoy my time with him. He is very sweet and likes to dance. One time, Mo just started doing a handstand."

EXPECTED TO BE COMPLETE IN THE 2020 SCHOOL YEAR, THE EXTENSIVE RENOVATION OF THE SCHOOL IS PROJECTED TO COST CLOSE TO $17 MILLION. EVENTUALLY, THERE WILL BE AT LEAST 23 CLASSROOMS RENOVATED OR ADDED ON, AS WELL AS A NEW GYM AND MULTI-PURPOSE-INSTRUCTIONAL-FACILITY, NEW MUSIC ROOMS AND MORE.

"I am looking forward to the new basketball court being built since the old basketball court is kind of slippery," Boys' Basketball player Owen Foreman (7) said.

"When I get dropped off at school there is always a lot of traffic which makes it hard to be on time to my classes. Now I know how to manage my time and I can make it on time to my classes in the morning."
- Hannah Lightner (7)

"After I get off the bus in the morning, I drop my instrument off in the band room. Next, I go to my locker and put all of my stuff in there. Then, I have to go to from the East Side to 20 Art on the West Side. It's sometimes difficult because we only have five minutes to get to class and I have a lot to do in the morning."

A HOLE NEW WORLD. On Dec. 11, parts of the natatorium are scattered throughout the remnants of the pool before it was filled in with cement. A crane was brought in weeks before to knock down all the exterior walls. The pool area will eventually become the new multi-story band and choir rooms. Photo by D. COOK

CONSTRUCTION BY THE NUMBERS

CONSTRUCTION ISSUES LIKE DUST MAKE THE FIRE ALARMS GO OFF RANDOMLY, INTERRUPTING CLASSES

SOUND THE ALARM

"Last year the classes were a lot more consistent, but this year we could just have a fire drill anytime."
- Brayden Billington (8)

"I usually think 'what is happening?' The first time I thought there was actually a fire but now I just don't care anymore because I suspect it is caused by the construction."
- Cooper Haugh (7)

"Fire alarms stop our classes and make them shorter. Sometimes they cause more homework."

ACE YOUR PACE

CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS GIVE ADVICE ON HOW TO PROPERLY PACE DURING A RACE

"You should avoid trying to keep up with people. When you're racing, run how you want to run it. Don't try to be with other people if they're too fast for you."
- Carson Goodman (8)

"Before a race, you always want to motivate yourself. Music helps me so much and you just want to give yourself good thoughts, even if you have to write them on your hand. Even telling other people 'good luck' makes you feel good about yourself and you might do better in your race."
- Mary Kate Sloan (7)

"You have to start out strong at the beginning so you can get your place in the race. Then you have to figure out where you should go from there."
- Haylee Sterchi (8)

"You should always focus on your breathing because it'll help you stay steady. You should also make sure you always look up so you don't trip. However, usually in the races there's white spray paint on the ground where there are things you could trip on, so looking down periodically is good too."
- Rachel Kovacs (7)

WERE YOU TOO OOOOOO FAST?

DO YOU USUALLY ANSWER KAHOOT QUESTIONS QUICKLY OR ACCURATELY?

"I tend to answer quickly in Social Studies. My Social Studies teacher, Mr. Neu, gives out candy to the people at the top of the leaderboard. I always try to be fast and sometimes I second guess myself."
- John Wickham (7)

"It's important to answer slowly because you need to learn the curriculum. Kahoot is all about studying for a test that might be coming up or reviewing. If you just do it fast and try to get the points, it's really not going to help you."
- Grace Feltz (7)

THE NEW UKULELE CLUB BRINGS OPPORTUNITIES FOR MEMBERS

The distinct sound of ukulele strumming pours out of room E502 after school. No, this is not the band rehearsal. It's the sound of the new Ukulele Club practicing for their holiday concert.

Wellness teacher Amy Abriani created the brand new club to offer something different after school. Molly Lesniewski (7) took advantage of the opportunity.

"I've had a ukulele, but I've never really known how to play it," Lesniewski said. "A lot of my friends were joining, so I decided to learn how to play my ukulele."

Those with prior music experience, like Camryn Herring (7), were looking for a new instrument to add to their repertoire.

"I already play the saxophone,"

Herring said. "I just wanted to try a new instrument and learn something new."

Members saw this as a good alternative to traditional instruments. "I like the sound of guitars, but they are way too big for me," Sarah Slover (8) said. "I like how the ukulele is a smaller instrument."

"My mom had me start playing the piano when I was in first grade or second grade, and I never really liked it," Hadley Wettschurack (7) said. "I knew I wanted to play an instrument and the ukulele seemed like an easy one to try to play. It's easy and I like the way it sounds."

TERRIBLE TUNE. The sounds of an out-of-tune ukulele mix with Ukulele Club member Ella Crites (7) and her friends' laughter on Dec. 4. A strange, sharp sound echoed out of a ukulele as the club began their weekly meeting. "Someone's ukulele was really out of tune, and it was bad," Crites said. "We all screamed, laughed and then sang." Photo by M. CHIARELLA

COME AND STRUM

1. STRIKE THE RIGHT CHORD. Pulling up a chord chart on her phone, Ukulele Club member Luci Bluto (8) shows finger placements to Ukulele Club Adviser Amy Abriani in room E502 on Nov. 27. Bluto tried to decide on a song to play but needed to make sure it was easy enough to learn. "When you look up the chords online, they always show the placements and things like that," Bluto said. "When everyone joined Ukulele Club, we got a chord chart that showed where you should put your fingers. As you're singing it shows you the chord placements." Photo by K. ROBERTS. 2. PLACEMENTS WITH A PARTNER. Ukulele Club member Skyler Long (7) watches Karlee Frew's (7) finger placement closely during practice on Nov. 27. Through the club, Frew and Long rekindled their friendship. "It was nice to be friends with her again," Frew said. "We separated for a while, and we came back together this year." Photo by K. ROBERTS. 3. MUSICAL MATES. With her phone pressed between her legs, Ukulele Club member Skyler Long (7) watches the chord chart as she plays a song with Hadley Wettschurack (7) and Karlee Frew (7) in E502. On Dec. 4, the girls worked on their song for the upcoming holiday concert together. "Hadley and Karlee told me that Ukulele Club was fun and they learned a lot from it, so I got my ukulele and joined the club," Long said. "We are working on Christmas songs together." Photo by M. TWINS FOR THE WIN

PROS

"I like being a twin because you can rely on your sibling."
- Caitlin Carr (7)

"You always have somebody there to support you."
- Jake Case (8)

"It's pretty neat because you can have someone there for you when no one else is."
- Dylan Hilbert (7)

"You get to meet and know more people."
- Sam Everts (7)

"We have each other's company and it isn't lonely like being an only child."
- Peyton Williams (7)

"We're in the same grade, so we know what goes on."
- Dylan Walker (8)

"I think it is valuable to have someone in the same grade as you, so you can help each other."
- Laura Shupe (8)

"You always have someone your age around you."
- Jack Dietz (7)

CONS

"You argue and you don't always get along very well."
- Austin Carr (7)

"Your twin might be annoying, basically like normal siblings."
- Josh Case (8)

"I don't like sharing a birthday with my twin."
- Maren Hilbert (7)

"You argue a lot with each other."
- Lilli Everts (7)

"If my twin does something wrong, it can sometimes be associated with me."
- Paul Williams (7)

"People compare you to your twin a lot."
- Chandler Walker (8)

"You usually fight a lot with your twin."
- Evan Shupe (8)

"Being a twin can be annoying and he takes stuff."

SWEET APPLE TEENS. On Feb. 27, Katie Fitzsimmons (7) and Brenna Willis (8) perform during the dress rehearsal at the beginning of scene 11 in Bye Bye Birdie, as Conrad sings "A Lot of Livin' to Do." It took work for Willis and Fitzsimmons to be comfortable acting with each other, but they both ended up getting the hang of things pretty quickly. "Brenna and I were actually together in a couple of scenes, so we had to form a kind of chemistry on and off stage," Fitzsimmons said. "We enter together in one of our scenes, and we have to look really enthralled in conversation with each other and I found it really easy to do that because Brenna's such a nice person, we had a really simple connection and it was good to work with her." 10:29 Boom. Just as Morgan Deenik (7), Owen Ferreri (7), Ellie Hoffman (7), Camryn Herring (7), Sam Hinds (8) and Owen Hudson (7) lined up at the start line, the skies opened up. Much to the shock of Hoffman, rain, thunder and lightning crashed over the runners and all over the course. "There was supposed to be light rain, but we didn't really expect anything," Hoffman said. "When we got there, there were a bunch of clouds and we didn't think much of it at the time."

10:34 The line formation breaks up when coaches tell runners to return to the general field. But fearing for safety, the runners took cover under the team tent. "We got back to the tent and we were standing there for 5 minutes trying to shove all the parents and team members into the tent," Hoffman said. "Everyone was worried that the parents holding the metal tent down were going to get electrocuted."

10:42 Changing plans once more, runners sprinted to the bus for safety. "It was so crowded in there," Herring said. "Everyone was soaking wet." "We all had to work together to get crammed on the bus," Deenik said. "Our whole team was sitting there wondering what was going on."

11:03 According to Hinds, the course didn't have a way to filter out all of the water so the meet was canceled and runners had to get rides home with their parents. "We were all pumped up for the race, but then it got canceled," Ferreri said. "Some people were happy since they didn't want to run, but I really wanted to run." Other meets ended up getting rained out too, but overall the team stuck it out, rain or shine. "Cross country just clicked for me," Hudson said. "I became very close to everybody on my team. When I ran, I just felt comfortable."

WET HAIR DON'T CARE

THE BROTHERHOOD. Grayson Cox (7), Owen Hudson (7) and Ryan Williams (8) stick together through the rain at Fishers Junior High on Sept. 24. With it being one of their first races, the team soon found the beginning of a brotherhood. "I was very nervous for my first race, but became friends with the people around me. We were the same speed and helped each other out through races," Hudson said. Photo by A. ADELMAN

1. HANGING OUT. While awaiting on the giant swing at Aea Bales park on Oct. 2, Sam Hinds (8) goes off with his fellow Cross Country runners. They regularly visited the park to take a break from running before resuming their actual practice. "I liked going to the park because I got to hang out with my friends," Hinds said. "We got to catch up, talk and play games with each other. We played basketball and baseball, and we always played this game called mullin." Photo by O. FLYNN Z.

RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY. While at Fishers Junior High on Sept. 24, Makayla Woodward (8) and the rest of the girls' team try to shake the water out of their hair. Throughout the season, the team experienced weather-related issues. "The weather didn't really cooperate," Kingston said. "It rained a bunch and a lot of our meets got delayed because of rain, snow, cold and thunder." Photo by A. ADELMAN

3. A GOOD LAUGH. During the Cross Country practice on Sept. 25, Morgan Deenik (7) and Sarah Sliver (8) reminisce about their team's "rabies" book in Mrs. Abrian's room. At the beginning of the season, the runners found the book while on a run, and it soon became an inside joke. "Every time we read the book it's a special moment for us because we all understand and know about it," Sliver said. Photo by L. SHUPE

"My locker is messy. I have a bunch of gum wrappers from the beginning of the school year around it, and I give no effort to keep it clean."
- Caleb Coates (8)

"Sometimes, when I open my locker, papers will just fall out. I try to keep it clean, but I usually just do the normal locker clean out days. I have a shelf, but I haven't been able to put it in yet. I put papers in there, and they just kind of fall to the bottom."
- Chelsea Pierce (7)

"I think it's important to keep my locker clean because my schedule involves me running across both sides of the school, so I need to find my stuff quickly. If it's organized, it's easy."
- Makayla Woodward (8)

"I've seen the stuff people have done to their lockers and it's papers all over the place. Mine is just books stacked on top of each other. I can pull books out, that's all I need to do. It's easier."
- Tyler Michelstetter (7)

ART CLUB MAKES CLAY ORNAMENTS

"I made about five ornaments because my friend couldn't make any. I like working with clay because it is a hands-on activity, and I get to make things on my own."
- Ellie Veith (7)

"Working with clay is fun because you can mold a bunch of different things. If you mess up, you can fix it. I mess up a lot, so I'm able to fix it."
- Katie Green (7)

"I made a dog ornament and two dog bones. I love working with clay because when you first get it, it's all wet."
- Kate Downey (7)

BLOW YOUR MIND

"We had to grab the worksheet and then grab the bubble mix. There were three different types of bubble mixes A, B and C. Some of mixes blew bigger bubbles and some of them blew smaller ones."
- Jada Easterhaus (7)

EXPLORERS SCIENCE TEACHER MS. ELAINE MORGAN'S CLASSES MAKE BUBBLES TO PRACTICE MEASURING CIRCUMFERENCE AND DIAMETER

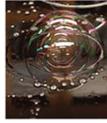

"We measured the diameter of the bubble after it had popped, then we wrote the measurement down in our table. We calculated the average diameter of all of the bubbles and then the average for that dish soap. I liked this part because I like math."
- Collin Alber (7)

"We tested each soap brand about 10 times and then we moved onto the next brand. Then, we calculated the average diameter of the bubbles."
- Julia Moulder (7)

"The project was fun because we were blowing bubbles and we got to make a mess. Why wouldn't that be fun?"
- Noah Flynn (7)

"We tried to make bubbles inside of bubbles, and then bubbles inside of those bubbles. It was kinda hard and we couldn't do it. The bubbles would pop whenever you stuck the straw through."

LIGHTS OUT

ON AUG. 17, THE FIRST FULL WEEK OF SCHOOL, THE WEST SIDE LOST COMPLETE POWER IN THE MIDDLE OF FIRST PERIOD.

THE POWER BRIEFLY CAME BACK ON DURING THIRD PERIOD AND THEN STAYED OFF FOR THE REST OF THE DAY DUE TO DAMAGED UNDERGROUND POWER LINES.

"I was in my first period, Science, when all of the lights went out," Owen Bone (8) said. "We all got out our phones and stayed there for awhile before they brought out the lanterns. All I could see was the lanterns lighting up the hallway. Since it was so dark we didn't have to do any work for the day, and I really enjoyed that."

"I just remember that I had drama in the West side so we had to go to the Library instead. I was happy because the East side had light and we didn't have to skip all of our classes to go to the high school."
- Kaitlyn Adams (7)

"Even though I didn't have any classes on the West side and we went through our normal schedule, I liked being able to do the things that the kids on the west side weren't able to."
- Shirley Cheah (7)

"I wasn't here when the blackout happened but I heard that the West side got to play on their phones all day because they could not do any work."
- Aiden Amaya (7)

"I remember that they had to use lanterns but that's about it. I was in fifth period when it happened but it didn't really affect my day at all."
- Derek Anders (7)

"I had basic skills over on the West side and it was so dark we could barely see but there were lanterns everywhere."
- Jaxson Floyd (7)

While at the high school, students got a lecture from Juniors about becoming Freshman and watched a movie. "I was in Science class and we had a substitute so I already thought it was going to be a good day because of that and then all of a sudden the lights went out," Keaton Effinger (8) said. "After that everybody just played on their phones and talked. My favorite part was when it was dark and everybody was just playing around."

WRESTLING TAKES DOWN ZIONSVILLE EAST

GET PINNED

1. IN THE MOMENT. In the middle of his match Eli Frei (8) throws his opponent in the 100 pound weight class over his shoulder on Jan. 22. Frei won the match, thanks to his confidence and preparation. "Before every match, I get hype and listen to music by Drake," Frei said. "I know that I am destroying a kid from Zionsville East, so I keep on doing my best to finally pin him down." Photo by L. SHUPE. 2. STRONGEST GUY. Brennen Cherf (7) went up against the strongest guy in the 180 pound weight class. Brennen was trying to be tough and strong and trying to stand up. "He put me in a headlock and he got to my legs," Cherf said. He did a single man throw me to the ground and got the pin." Photo by L. SHUPE. 3. EARNING THE WIN. After winning his match in the 160-pound weight class Austin Knott (8) gets his hand held up by the referee to show his victory. Knott knew the match was going to be tough but had high hopes of winning. "The match was hard because my opponent was good, but I felt happy when it was over and I knew that I had won." Knott said. Photo by L. SHUPE. 4. GETTING ENGAGED. Sitting in the middle of the bench, Hayden Netral (8) watches teammates, Jacob Culp (8) and Will Byers (8) during their concurrent matches on March 14. Byers' match did not go according to plan. "I felt bad for Will Byers (8) because he got hurt on the other mat," Netral said. "He got his head slammed on the mat during his match." Photo by R. BARRETT

FULL OF IT. Owen Matthews (8) this was their first home match against Zionsville East on Jan. 22. He has been wrestling for years and was ready to take down an opponent. "My opponent was held in a headlock on the mat after a hip toss I kept him on the mat," Matthews said. "I didn't want to give the guy a chance to score any points or recover." Photo by L. SHUPE

FAVORITE THINGS ABOUT BAND

BANDING TOGETHER

"I like playing the drums. I really like the teachers, Mr. Slom and Mrs. Rivers. They're very funny, nice and very chill."
- Joanna Strahm (8)
PERCUSSION

"I like band because the people in band class are people that create a sense of community and unity that all have the goal in mind."
- Isaac Schantz (8)
FRENCH HORN

"I like getting to meet so many new people through band. I also love the challenging aspect of band. Sometimes it can be hard to keep up with the faster pace songs and keep on improving every day."
- Kennedy Darts (8)
FLUTE

IPHONE VS. ANDROID

BIG BRANDS BIG OPINIONS

"I have an Apple XR. It has a facial ID feature, so I don't have to type in my password every time, and that's really cool. The camera is really nice and has great picture quality. In general, I feel that Apple has better quality phones. Their screens are bigger, and I just like the cameras more than Android. They also have lots of like compatibility with other products like the Apple Air Pods."
- Abby Clark (8)

"Android has more functionality than iPhones. You can watch videos in window mode and you can multitask easily. Also, the Android has a headphone jack and the new Apple phones do not. I don't like the restrictiveness about Apple. I think Android is easier to use than Apple because it's less complex. The Androids are also a good price."
- James Lawrence (8)

EMBRACING FAITH WHY DID YOU JOIN THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES?

Adviser Mr. Todd Hugemeier and Elizabeth Kelleher (7)

Cassie Echelmeier (7)

"I joined FCA because I am a Christian athlete. During our meeting, we do our sermons and devotions then we play sports. Everyone has a great time because we get to deepen our faith, play games and we sometimes have donuts. The sports are a bonus, but it is mainly about learning."
- Brennan Decker (8)

"I chose to join FCA because I wanted to learn more about God and Jesus. My favorite things in FCA is when we get to learn about God and also have a lot of fun doing it. This club is special because you get to talk about your religion with people who believe in the same things as you and share similar interests."
- Chase Catlin (7)

"My favorite part is spending time with other kids that have the same beliefs as me. I had to lead the Bible study; my lesson was about your emotions and how you can apply them to your athletics because it's the Fellowship of Christian Athletes."

EXPLORERS ALGEBRA CLASSES GO TO TARGET TO BUY CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR A FAMILY IN NEED

FORMULA FOR JOY

Data provided by Mr. Zach Zimmer and Mrs. Melinda Brown

OVER $2000

STUDENTS ON COLLECTED
FIELD TRIP

"The two classes went to Target with four teachers and they had a wishlist from the family in need and all their clothes sizes. Everyone helped with the wrapping. It was complete chaos and it was awesome. We do this fundraiser every year, this was the best ever."
- Mr. Zach Zimmer, Social Studies

"It just felt good going to the store and shopping for other kids who need things and not just shopping for myself."
- Andrew Lieske (7)

"We decided that we wanted to involve the students in the fundraiser more, so we thought it would be a good idea to let them do the shopping and pick out the gifts. They also had to calculate the tax and stay within their budget."
- Mrs. Melinda Brown, Math

THE EIGHTH GRADE GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL TEAM GOES UNDEFEATED

SET FOR SUCCESS

The Eighth Grade Girls' Volleyball team was comprised mostly of players that had been on the Seventh Grade Girls' Volleyball team the year before. Even still, the team did many things to prepare for the upcoming season. Before the school season began, the team went to iBeach31, a beach volleyball venue, to get to know each other better. It brought them closer both literally and figuratively.

"We did a lot of team building and bonding activities," Gigi Iovino (8) said. "We did a game where we strapped our legs together and did a race. We all fell a lot, but picked each other up."

To get to know each other on the court, the team practiced various drills to learn each others' playing styles.

"We would play quads, a four on four game, that would help us get to know how to play better with specific players," Lucy Muntel (8) said. "We also did servers versus passers where they would split us into different teams and we would go against each other."

The icebreakers and drills clearly paid off as the team won every game. "The biggest factor was our honest communication, even off the court," Mallory Neale (8) said. "If we have a problem or anything, we're all just really honest with each other."

The team celebrated their victories with a banquet and were even recognized at the school board meeting. "This year was the first time we did the banquet and it was really fun," Neale said. "It was nice and it was just really cool to get the whole team together. Our coach, Coach Pat McAndrews, brought each of us up in front of the banquet group one at a time and told us something unique about ourselves and why we were helpful to the team. I felt really proud at that moment because I had worked really hard to keep my team going and keep our undefeated record."

BREAK MY SERVE. The team waits as Lauren Reffel (8) serves at home to Fall Creek on Sept. 18. Unlike other sports, volleyball players switch positions constantly throughout the game, but they don't all favor the same ones. "I like serving and at county I served a lot," Reffel said. "It's a lot of pressure because you have to get it in or it's the other team's point." Photo by L. SHUPE

1. HUDDLE UP. In the middle of a game against Zionsville West on Sept. 19, Olivia Nelson (8), Elizabeth Carney (8), Mallory Weber (8), Kaylee Sutcliffe (8) and the rest of the team huddle up to get advice from their coach and plan out their next moves. Their coach always gave them words of advice for the rest of the game. "One time before his talk there were balls dropping between two girls but after his talk they started passing the ball and getting kills," Sutcliffe said. Photo by K. ROBERTS

2. BEYOND COMPARE. Before a game against Zionsville West on Sept. 19, Emma Sumpter (8) and Lucy Muntel (8) have Addison Fisher (8) compare their heights. They had been arguing about who was taller so they checked. "We make the effort to try to get closer with our teammates and always encourage each other," Sumpter said. Photo by K. ROBERTS

3. CHEER ON. As the B Team plays, A Team players Ella Murphy (8) and Lauryn Reffel (8) cheer on the sidelines at the home game against Zionsville West on Sept. 19. The A team stayed after their game to watch the B team play and support them as they went on. "We stay to support them like they supported us during our games," Murphy said. "They ended up winning the game against Zionsville." Photo by K. ROBERTS

AIRPODS

"I like AirPods because I think they're handy, but they're really expensive because Apple is a name brand. My favorite thing about them is that they have no wires, they are smooth, and their exterior is really classy which makes them cool."

- Noah Speicher (7)

SCRUNCHIES

"I like scrunchies, I use them for cheer a lot. When I have to put my hair up, the scrunchies makes it a lot easier because of my super thick hair, and they don't hurt when you take them out. Scrunchies and cheer go really great together."

- Kaylee Haggard (7)

HYDROFLASKS

"I really like Hydroflasks because they keep my water cold all day. They're easy to carry around and it keeps me hydrated. I love all the different color choices you get to pick from for your water bottle."

- Brady Cobb (8)

CLOUT GOGGLES

"I think that Clout Goggles are really cool. All of the different colors and patterns make them better than the usual pair of sunglasses. Other kids, including me, started to wear them because famous people like YouTubers started wearing them."

- Jersei Bradshaw (8)

FANNY PACKS

"If you're trying to imitate the 80s, fanny packs can be stylish. I think that 80s and 70s styles are coming back, and people like to bring eras back. Fanny packs are just really convenient, I don't like holding stuff in my pockets so I like having a fanny pack to carry around my stuff."

"I think the egg is cool because so many people liked one picture, and people kept reposting it. I didn't repost it, but I liked it because I thought I would support it."

- Libby Spinner (8)

"It's a little weird because it's just an egg. It got so big from random people sharing about it, and it was kinda funny to see it blow up and get so many likes. People spread it around a lot, and I thought it was crazy that it got more likes than Kylie Jenner."

SNAP DECISION

INSTAGRAM VS SNAPCHAT

"I like Instagram better because the app lets you keep all of your posts that you have ever posted, unlike Snapchat the pictures go away quickly. There is always new content on Instagram. You can make group chats and talk to lots of people at a time which is a cool feature."

- Chase Davis (8)

"I like Instagram more than Snapchat because there's more to do on the app and it never gets boring. It's interesting because you can see all of your friends' posts, and see what celebrities are up to. I like Instagram because it is easier to get connected with people."

- Olivia Jones (8)

"I think that Snapchat is better than Instagram. It's more secure because you can see if people screenshot what you send them or screen record stuff. It's easier to get more content and be reassured about what you send to people. I also use Snapchat more because it's easier to text my friends on it."

- Elise McCombs (7)

"I like Snapchat more because there are cool features like the filters. I think Snapchat has a more friendly atmosphere than Instagram. More cyberbullying happens on Instagram. I like how you can connect with people quicker on Snapchat."

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE TYPE OF MATH?

"Algebra is my favorite. It's fun and it's challenging, and I like to solve the expressions. I don't really like geometry because it has to do with shapes."
- Samantha Brown (7)

"I prefer algebra, it's the easiest for me. I like it because there's only one answer, not multiple answers. You can get the expressions down and really know how to do it."
- Caroline Wallace (8)

"I think that geometry is much simpler than algebra. We like calculate area and stuff of shapes, and I like shapes."
- Sutton Baker (8)

"There was a car coming at a very high speed down my street and I didn't think it was gonna stop, so I slammed on my front brake and I just toppled over my handlebars," doubles tennis player Evan Cummings (8) said. "I had a rib injury that prevented me from playing so it just kind of messed the whole roster up."

With Cummings injured, the players had to quickly adjust to their new doubles partners.

"I had to switch doubles partners and that was challenging because different players have different playing styles and you have to adapt to each one," doubles player Sawyer Strong (8) said. "If you don't work together then it's hard to complement each other's moves and know what the other person is going to do before they do it."

With strong doubles relationships built through the season, they soon switched partners without notice.

"You need to communicate a lot at certain spots and it's really important in that aspect of time."

After a rough couple of matches, the boys soon thrived with their new partner.

"The whole team had great chemistry, everybody liked each other and was really nice to each other," doubles player Gavin Dietz (7) said. "We had virtually no struggles with anybody not liking each other. After every point, we complement each other and talk to each other about what to do next. We make a plan before every match about what we are going to do and how we are going to approach the other players."

Becoming friends and trusting each other helped the tennis team get back to winning.

"It felt really good to come together as a team and win," Strong said. "To be able to get to conference with all of our challenges that we faced that is really amazing because of all the hard work that we put into it."

PUMPED UP. High living his teammates, doubles player Ryan Stachowiak (7) gets ready for the match against Zionsville. The team got excited and hyped up before every match when they ran through the line high living everyone on the team, and all Stachowiak could think about is playing his best. "The excitement doesn't really get to me, because I'm focused on the match and making sure that I don't let my doubles partner down," Stachowiak said. Photo by C. CAMERON

1. PREPARE FOR IMPACT. Having fun on the court, doubles player Evan Cummings (8) and the team warm up before the match against Zionsville West on Sep. 27. Cummings learned the importance of being more careful when passing and serving with his teammates. "We were just having fun and hitting the ball around before the match," Cummings said. "My friend hit a sky ball up in the air and I smacked it out of the air. It hit him pretty hard in not a very pleasant place. I burst out laughing and it was just a good time." Photo by O. COOK 2. IT ALL PAYS OFF. At tennis player Michael Bastic's (7) house, doubles player Mitch Amenta (8) received The Best Doubles Player Award from Coach Christian Horner at the Boys' Tennis end of the year party on Oct. 8. Amenta worked hard with a record of 10-2 while playing doubles. "When I went up to get the award I really liked having all of the attention on me," Amenta said. "I was really happy that my coach thought I was the best doubles player and that made me really proud. I worked really hard during the season and I practiced a lot to get better." Photo by L. SHUPE 3. WATCH OUT. During their match against Zionsville on Sep. 27, Ryan Stachowiak (7) serves while his doubles partner, Ryan Crum (8), stands in position. Even though he trusted his doubles partner serve, all Crum thought about was protecting himself from the ball. "When my double partner serves I just really don't want to get hit by the ball," Crum said. "I once got hit when my doubles partner was serving. I just got hit in the back and it was just super surprising because I didn't think that it would ever happen. Now I kind of worry about getting hit and I just try to be more careful." Photo by C. GAVIN SMITH (8) FILLS OUT A MADLIBS ABOUT THE HIGHS AND LOWS OF LUNCH

"The lunchroom is a bit crowded and I wish it was bigger. The crazy kids can sometimes make a wrass and that causes a lot of trouble. There are many conversations going on about your weekend, or what you are going to do this week in your class, this is something that I really like. I like gathering with my friends and talking about our days. It's good to have a break, talk to people and just kind of relax it's a good break from sitting in class all day."

"I have to practice a lot, but when I was on vacation I just got to relax and see the sights," Dykema said. 2. BRANCH OUT. On vacation in New Buffalo, Michigan over fall break, Charlie Biehn (7) climbed trees by Lake Michigan. Climbing trees was a nice break from weekly soccer practices. "I've been trying to get better at soccer, so I've been going to the gym and working on my foot skills," Biehn said. "It feels good to be able to get away from everything and just chill out for a little bit." 3. TAKE IT EASY. Over the summer, Sophie Peters (7) visited the Hole in the Rock in Phoenix, Arizona. She enjoyed the scenery, as well as the break away from being home everyday. "It was just relaxing because it was away from responsibilities," Peters said.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

DRAMA STUDENTS PREPARE FOR THE END OF QUARTER PLAY

The Eighth Grade Drama class only had six weeks to prepare for the end of the quarter play, "Poe Dunked," which didn't leave a lot of time to memorize everything.

"You have to get your part right and remember your lines, so it's very difficult to remember everything," Drama student Autumn Love (8) said.

With Drama classes only being nine weeks long, the absence of people and props caused issues too.

"Rehearsal can be hard to act without any props," Drama student Alana Halsted (8) said. "It makes it even more challenging to rehearse when someone isn't there. Even though it's difficult, it's very interesting to try because it's fun to see how people use their imagination to imagine the prop there and using it."

Even though someone wasn't there, they were able to do something special in the day and build relationships.

"Rehearsing the play in class is very fun and everyone is active," Sophia Dobosiewicz (8) said. "It's something different in the school day. Instead of writing and sitting during a class, we get to move around."

Another way that the class is different is that they put on a performance at the end of the quarter, so that friends and families could come watch.

"I'm excited for my parents and everybody to come and watch us," Love said. "I can get really nervous and that can make me a mess but hopefully I won't feel overwhelmed. I just try to stay positive."

The big performance came on Dec. 14 and Love's rehearsal hours paid off.

"I really wasn't too nervous because I felt more comfortable with the material," Love said. "I did it so many times."

TAKING OVER. Playing Bary Binger, Alana Halsted (8) performs on stage at the Intermediate school on Dec. 14 at 6:30 p.m. The show was "Poe Dunked" and was about the life of Edgar Allan Poe. Halsted's character guided the audience through the show. "He is very prideful, all about himself and full of himself," Halsted said. "He wants the show to go the way he wants it to instead of how it's supposed to play out." Photo by A. ADELMAN

KNOCK, KNOCK. In the play "Poe Dunked," Alex Brown (8) plays the title role of Edgar Allan Poe, as his character speaks with Sam Toney's (8) character on Dec. 14. "In this scene I was at home trying to make a poem and things kept distracting my character," Brown said. "It was hard for me to remember all of my lines because I had to play many characters." Photo by E. ZABOROWSKI

RAIN, RAIN, RAIN. Autumn Love (8) stirs the rain shaker in the "Poe Dunked" play on Dec. 14 at 6:30 p.m. Love, Obbie Martinez (8), Emma Sparano (8), Delaney Mallory (8) and Fady Shehata (8) played the instruments around her to represent the heartbeat of a dead man to make her seem insane. "Emma played Edgar Allan Poe and she is one of the main characters of 'The Tell Tale Heart,'" Love said. "She was being questioned for murder. I played the instrument by tilting it so it made rain noises. In that moment, I was thinking how offbeat everyone was with their instrument." Photo by E. ZABOROWSKI

BEHIND THE BOT

THE ROBOTICS TEAM BUILDS THEIR FIRST ROBOT

"This robot was hard to make because it's the first design and you're starting from scratch."
- Anthony Sulewski (7)

"I like working together to build the robot because the work was split up, it gave us more ideas and it was easier to figure out who was doing what."
- Rowan SeRine (7)

"My favorite thing is to build and test out the robots. The most challenging part about building is making sure the robots work properly and trying to complete the challenge."
- Abhijay Salvi (7)

CHEERLEADER CADENCE HEAD'S (8) BOW-MAKING SKILLS LEAD TO BRAND NEW BOWS FOR THE TEAM

"I came up with the idea to make bows because our uniforms came with bows, but they're not proper quality," Head said. "I decided that since I knew how to make them, I could give them to the team as a goodwill gift." Cheerleader Anna Harvey (8) thought the new bows were a big improvement. "Cadence's bows are better because they're more professional, versus our bows that are really flimsy and fall apart easily," Harvey (8) said.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE WINTER AND SUMMER SHOE BRAND? PUMPED UP KICKS

"There are many types of Vans and they come in many different colors. You can really wear them with anything. I normally wear them everyday to school or to parties."
- Evie Hanlin (8)

"You can wear Chacos with anything. If you go to the beach, you don't have to take them off because you can get them wet and they won't get ruined. I wear them if I go camping because they're really comfortable."
- Anna Kemper (8)

"Birkenstocks are easy to slip on and you can wear them with socks or without socks. I normally wear Birkenstock's to diving practice and when I go to the pool."
- Lucy Hauser (7)

"Hunter boots are really comfortable and they are water resistant which is good for snow or rain. They're kind of like a hunting boot and go with almost anything. I normally wear them to school."

VINTAGE GETUP

BYE BYE BIRDIE COSTUMES THROW BACK TO THE 50'S

"In the musical, I play Hugo Peabody. I get to act angry and jealous of Conrad all the time. Since Hugo is a jock but also still a geek, my costume is a letterman jacket with a sweater, khakis and a pair of converse. My favorite thing about my costume is the jacket because I like wearing it."
- Collin Alber (7)

"In Bye Bye Birdie, my character is Girl #1. In scene four, I tell Albert why the sad girl is sad. It is because Conrad is going into the Army. For my costume, I have a dark blue skirt with white polka dots and a pink button up shirt. My favorite part about my costume is my skirt because it is very twirly."
- Grace Feltz (7)

"I play Penelope Ann, so I am a Sweet Apple Teen and a part of the Conrad Birdie Fan Club. I also sing in 'Telephone Hour'. My costume is a black skirt with a pink poodle on it and a pink shirt. The part of my costume that I like the best is probably the skirt."
- Eve Bertram (8)

STAGE HANDS HELP WITH SCENE CHANGES, LIGHTS AND SOUND

BEHIND THE SCENES

"I help backstage and move sets. I move bedroom walls, office walls and the Conrad sign. My favorite part of rehearsal is watching performers sing and seeing what they do. It's kind of cool."
- Jacob Milligan (7)

"I do the sound for Bye Bye Birdie. We make sure the microphones are loud enough so we could hear them and we play the music. The audience can't really hear the actors without their microphones so we have to take care of that. My favorite part is watching the performers and knowing that I'm helping the musical."
- Olivia Horner (7)

"I am one of the spotlight people and I am also back with the hair and makeup crew. During the songs, I have to put a spotlight on the main characters. Doing spotlight seems easy but it's a lot of work. I like doing it because it keeps me busy throughout the show."
- Rachel Kovacs (7)

LIFE IS ONE SWEET BEAUTIFUL SONG. In the last scene of the musical Charlie Schultz (8), who plays Albert, dances with Olivia Bell (8), who plays Rosie at the Feb. 26 dress rehearsal. Albert was always struggling but at this moment he was only focused on Rosie. "Albert is a spaz and always stressed out," Schultz said. "He is always trying to get things done for his important job even though he can't handle little tiny things. My favorite thing in that scene is the dip at the end of the dance." Photo by L. SHUPE

CHEER UP. While cheering at the Football game against Fall Creek on Oct. 4, Cameron Essig (8) does an extension lib with her stunt group. Before the game, the team did warm ups such as lunges, kicks and splits so they would be able to do the extension lib during the game. "My favorite part of cheer is stunting," Essig said. "I do cool tricks, like libs. I haven't had any scary experiences because my stunt group is super good and our stunts always hit." Photo by L. SHUPE

FRIENDS BOND OVER
WATCHING MEMES AND VINES MEMORIES

"I like the skeleton doot meme. My friend got second place once on Fortnite and I just said, 'doot' to him."
- Jose Salinas (7)

"I watch Vines with one of my best friends, Lexi Colombo (7), because she actually got me into them. We use them just to joke around or just watch them at our houses. We laugh a lot. One of my favorite Vines is the 'road work ahead?' Vine."
- Ella Langford (7)

"I like the sports fails. It's something me and my brother both like watching because we find them really funny. There are always ones where we are like, 'nope.'"
- Charles Epstein (7)

1 Win to 5 Wins. 5 Wins to 10. Even with more practices than any of their opponents, being undefeated didn't come easily to the Eighth Grade Football team. A focus of those extra practices was to build strong relationships with each other.

"We would partner up every week with a new person and we would write down our goals, like in school and outside of school," corner Fady Shehata (8) said.

The teammates didn't just partner up with each other to build strong relationships, they also strived to keep each other the best they could possibly be.

"Everybody kept each other's hopes high and kept our morals up," safety Ryan Fauntleroy (8) said. "It kept us at our full potential and thinking we can do the best we can. I think everybody knowing what it takes to be good teammates and having a good season helped us win."

Working with new people each week helped all the players, including new ones, get to know each other. This ultimately led to the team's success on the field with a record of 10-0.

EIGHTH GRADE FOOTBALL IS UNDEFEATED
TWO YEARS IN A ROW

"It felt good being undefeated, especially for me with moving here from North Carolina," Andrew Oger (8) said. "My team there only won a couple of games, so it felt good to win a lot."

This wasn't the first time the team went undefeated, but to Fauntleroy, it was just as exciting of an experience.

"It felt amazing being undefeated, even though it was the same as last year," Fauntleroy said. "It just felt good to know we did the best we could. I definitely would say it was more special the first year because that's when I first felt the emotion of, 'We did this.' I thought we were the best we could be the first time and I thought we could repeat our success the next season, and we did."

WE
CHAMPIONS

ADRENALINE RUSH. Running on the field next to a Fall Creek player, safety Colin Lakomek (8) tries to defend his team to secure a victory. The other team was going to score, so Lakomek had a plan to stop it. "I was trying to tackle #22," Lakomek said. "I was nervous because I didn't want to miss him. He was going to score a touchdown if I didn't tackle him, but I had adrenaline pumping, so I felt confident that I would get to him. When I got that confidence, I finally tackled him." Photo by L. SHUPE

1. SENTIMENTAL RITUAL. Standing up around the huddle, Jason Roney (8) preaches to his teammates before their first game of the season against Fall Creek on Oct. 4. His coach picks out who he wants to preach for every game. "Preaching is when we huddle and pray together," Roney said. "The coach picked me, so I got to stand and create the prayer. I felt relaxed and had no stress during that moment, I felt ready for our game." Photo by L. SHUPE. 2. PRE-GAME CHAT. While waiting for the game to begin on Oct. 8 against Lions Club, Collin Lindsey (8) and Eli Frei (8) talk with each other. Lindsey wanted to make sure that he and Frei knew what they needed to do for their game. "I was talking about alignment and where he and I needed to be on the field," Lindsey said. "I wanted us to be on the same page, so I took notes." Photo by R. BARRETT. 3. GAME PREP. Warming up for the upcoming game against Creekside, linebacker Charlie Dager (8) practices on the field. Dager had a warming up ritual for himself and some with his teammates. "We were working on my footwork to warm up for our game," Dager said. "The entire team usually warms up together as well and try to get hype before the game as a family. Usually, we stretch then we gather up and pray." Photo by M. CHIARELLA

STEP 1: Get to know each other
"I really enjoy hanging out with everybody and connecting with them. I find it really fun to hang out with people who don't judge you. I feel like all the kids know me and they get excited when they see me walk in the room. When I first met some of the kids, I really tried to keep an open mind. I knew that the closer I got to know them, the easier it would be to become friends."
- Olivia Nelson (8)

STEP 2: Learn the recipe
"I think it's really fun to watch them learn new recipes. We work a lot on cracking eggs to make scrambled eggs and it's been kind of fun to see the kids learn to crack them. They have some favorite recipes that they like to make. We do a lot of eggs; we make cookies, pancakes and we try to do healthy foods as well. It's fun to see the kids become more independent. I like to see them choose what they want to make."
- Peer Facilitation Teacher Mrs. Maureen Craver

A RECIPE FOR FRIENDSHIPS
THE PROCESS FOR WORKING WITH PEERS

STEP 3: Create the dish with help from others
"I like to make yummy foods. My favorite food to make is omelettes."
- Jake Hoyle (8)

STEP 4: Become friends
"Every two weeks we switch who our peers are in class. I got to help JR in Mrs. Craver's class. We would always help him and others put in ingredients whenever we would cook. He would get really excited when I came into the room to work with him. It was so easy to help him because he was always cheerful and happy. His face would light up when I walked in the room."
- Allison Beckwith (8)

SOS MEMBERS COLLECT CANNED FOOD FOR THE ANNUAL FOOD DRIVE
CAN WE COLLECT?

"Our advisers for SOS, Mr. Tony Rivera and Mrs. Shannon Rivera, really encouraged us to go to every event, so I went to help with the cans. I think it helped me and the club members bond more since we got to work with each other while helping others we don't know. Even though I didn't get to see who the cans were donated to, it made me happy to know that they were going to a person who needed them."

ON A NEW NOTE

Q&A WITH THE SCHOOL'S FIRST MENS' CHOIR

What is it like to be in the first 7&8 Men's Choir?

"In the mens choir, we are not as shy and we are a little louder. I thought being in the first Mens' Choir would be a lot of fun since it was new."

- Lewis Kaufman (8)

"Being in the first Mens' Choir is a really great experience because the teachers and students are wonderful."

- Dylan Hilbert (7)

What makes this different in other choirs?

"We pay attention and understand the tones very well. I also think being in the Mens' Choir is super cool because we are the only one in the area."

- Alex Day (8)

What is your favorite part of choir?

"One of my favorite parts of choir are the songs; my favorites are 'One Light' and 'Grinch' because I like the tune of them."

- Yuvavir Toora (7)

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

SPEECH AND DEBATE TEAM MEMBERS COMPETE IN DIFFERENT CATEGORIES

Poetry

"In my last meet I did Poetry, which is when you recite a published poem. We practice by setting the style that we are going to say the poem in. My favorite part is the people because I really enjoy hanging out with the people there."

- Isaac Schantz (8)

Impromptu

"I do Impromptu, it is when you get one quote, one word or one current event. You have to take that information and make it into a speech. You get eight minutes to speak and prepare and you cannot do any research. My favorite part of speech and debate team is that I am able to talk with people, make friends and be able to do something that I love. It also gives me experience for when I am talking to people in real life."

- Gerald Maduwaba (8)

Discussion

"I do Discussion, which is when you get a topic to do research on and you discuss it with several other kids from other schools. In this we use our speaking skills and our researching skills. There are three people in Discussion and we have grown this bond between us because we are in the same category."

- Stella Seymour (7)

Extemporaneous

"I do Extemporaneous speech, which is when you are given a prompt which is a topic. You have thirty minutes to prepare a speech, and you will speak to three different judges about your topic."

- David Young (7)

"Too loud is never too loud," right base Allison Doyle (8) said.

Being loud was a large part of Eighth Grade Cheers' success.

"Our season was great and we got a lot of wins; at competitions we got second and first," flyer Abby Lewis (8) said.

"We were practicing in the gray area of the West Gym and we were being really loud so the boy's basketball coach had to tell us to quiet down," flyer Cameron Essig said. "Instead of moving we just quieted down." They made sure their voices were heard so they would score well in competition.

"We really get to build relationships with other cheerleaders and it's like a second family in a way because I can talk about a lot of stuff with them," front spotter Chloe Day (8) said.

ON THE SIDELINES: Directed by Coach Tabitha O'Neal, flyer Cadence Head (8) and base Delaney Mallory (8) practice the stunt called 'Shoulder Sit.' They were cheering at the Eighth Grade football game against Creekside on Sept. 25. "It was my first time performing a shoulder sit and I was a little scared of falling, but also really excited," Head said. Photo by I. GRADY

Stalter was not usually a flyer but had to fill in because one of the other flyers was playing basketball at the time. "I was a little bit scared that they would drop me or that I would do something wrong but I flew last year, so I'm kind of used to it now," Stalter said. Photo by M. CHIARELLA 2. LOUD AND PROUD: On Dec. 1 at the Eighth Grade Boys' basketball game, Caren Boulos (8) cheers. Boulos cheered for both fall and winter cheer seasons. - Anthony Shenouda (8)

"To celebrate, I get off my couch and start doing weird dances. I yell a little bit and I run around my house."

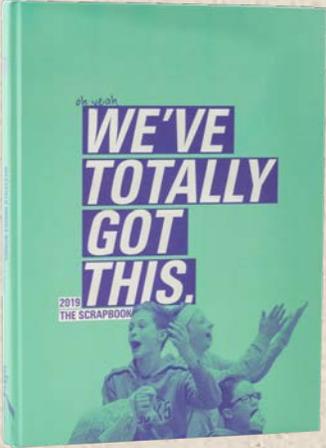

- Kori Lightfoot (7)

"When I won my first game I was really excited because I wanted to tell all of my friends. I've won so many but it's still good to win. I scream a ton when I die."

At home, trash leaves the house in a truck and students don't get to see where it goes, but the Green Hornets team saw what happens at the Rays Recycling Plant.

"We got a tour through each of the stations they have, like how they separate things," Amiyah Ballard (8) said.

The first station separated recyclables in different piles.

"We first went to the recycling plant," Reese Adams (8) said. "There were pounds and pounds of certain groups of cans and paper and everything."

When they visited the recycling center, students found that there was trash everywhere.

"There was a lot of trash, like wrappers and bottles everywhere, and there were like stacks of them all together," Ballard said.

Some students like Adams had mixed feelings about the trip.

"I liked the recycling plant and how everything works in there," Adams said. "The wastewater plant was kind of gross though, and we were just outside most of the time so we didn't really see anything that went on."

At the wastewater treatment plant, one of the stations, the aeration tanks, didn't have a good odor.

"My favorite part of the trip was leaving because it smelled bad because there was a lot of human waste there," Scott Albino (8) said.

The wastewater treatment plant had a unique system of turning human waste into a usable fertilizer.

"My favorite part was the science behind it all," Hailey Anderson (8) said. "It fascinated me how they could turn feces into something that can be used."

ADJELMAN. 2. PAY ATTENTION. Brayden Wilson (8) and Dillon Thieneman (8) listen to their instructor explain how they treat wastewater at the wastewater plant. The Green Hornets went on this trip to learn about how recycling happens. "I learned the importance of recycling. I need to reuse things more. I'm not going to waste as much," Wilson said. AND THE HEAT GOES ON

Defensive Line: "I couldn't see very well because sweat was getting in my eyes. If only I could take my helmet off to get the sweat out of my eyes." - Defensive Tackle Demonte King (7)

Defensive End: "The heat made us get tired way faster, especially being out there with all those pads on." - Tight End Drew Wolfe (7)

Coach: "We always play at night. It might be 87 degrees out at 2pm but by the time we play at 6pm or later it's not that hot." - Coach Vince Brooks

WHAT INSPIRED YOU TO RUN FOR STUDENT COUNCIL? EXPLAIN THE CAMPAIGN

"I was sick on election day so I didn't run, but everyone had chosen me. I was surprised." - Abby Clark (8)

"I like the idea of being a leader in the school. I feel like I need to do things in the school." - Jake Case (8)

"I did a fundraiser for Nepal and that was fun so I wanted to do some fundraisers again." - Gaurav Adhikari (8)

"I like helping the community and I thought it would be something fun to try out." - Sydney Klinglesmith (8)

STUDENT COUNCIL AND NJHS BUILD THE SCHOOL'S FIRST EVER HOMECOMING FLOAT

Content by E. ZABOROWSKI and C. KESSLER
Design by R. BARRETT

GAME ON

ON

The NJHS and Student Council's retro video game-themed float, "It's-a-me, Westfield Middle School" rides in the homecoming parade on Sept. 9 down West Hoover street. The float featured characters from "Pacman" and "Super Mario Bros." Photo by B. CLARK

1. PAINTING PROPS Building the float was a lot of fun because I got to work on it with my friends and get hours for NJHS at the same time. I painted the turtle costumes for the students to wear in the parade. In the end, I loved how the costumes and the float turned out. - NJHS Member Brooke Dunkin (8) Photo by K. ROBERTS
2. BUILDING BRICKS My job was to tape the boxes that represented the bricks. My favorite part of the float were the two boys on the couch playing video games. I'm glad that I got to participate in something for school and help out. - Student Council Member Lillie Wade (7) Photo by L. SHUPE
3. CONSTRUCTING SIGNS Everyone had their own job when putting the float together. I taped the signs together for the people walking in the parade. Everyone is so close with each other so we had a good time building the float. - Student Council Member Maia Cristo (8) Photo by K. ROBERTS
4. PAINTING PROPS I got to help make the float and work with my friends at the same time. Painting the turtles for the float was pretty hard because I'm not a good painter. After the float was all done my favorite part was the turtles because I helped paint them and they turned out good. - NJHS Member Evan Russ (8) Photo by D. COOK

"I was Toad from Mario Kart because I like his character and I think he's really cute. I think my costume was unique because nobody else in the parade dressed up as him. My favorite thing about passing out candy was I got to see little kids get really happy when I threw candy." - Cadence Schrock (7)

"I held a blow up game controller on the back of the truck. I got to throw footballs to little kids in the crowd. My favorite thing about the parade was I went up to little kids and they got to play with the controller and pretend they were driving the truck." - Mason Likovetz (8)

"I dressed up as Luigi from Mario Kart and my best friend dressed up as Mario. Since Mario Kart is such a retro video game we thought we would dress up as the main characters. We had our costumes from the Halloween before so it was easy to dress up." - Isabel Holmes (7)

I wore a "Game On" shirt for the parade. I helped pass out the candy from the mystery boxes that we made. I loved handing out the candy and then seeing smiles on the little kids faces." - Erin Annandale (7)

RUN AND FUND. On Mar. 20, track athletes Kelsey Cross (7) and Lilly Tavaraz (7) work together to figure out the best way to squirt the dye onto their shirts. Over 100 members of the Boys' and Girls' Track Teams participated in a tie dye fundraiser for Haylee Sterchi's (8) younger brother who has a mitochondrial disease. "I was tie dying with my friend Lilly and we got dye all over our hands and I got some dye on my shoe," Cross said. "The overall experience was fun and messy." Photo by L. SHUPE

BASKETBALL PLAYER

Content by C. CAMERON

MARISSA KOSCHNICK

"I believe I am motivated. I am really determined to do my best, and I push myself a lot. I want to be the best person I can be with no regrets. I was just born this way. I tell myself that I deserve to be playing with the best. I've been playing basketball since I was in kindergarten and started travel when I was in second grade. I chose basketball because it's more of a sport that you can improve on. For other sports, you go out there and practice but you can't train as hard as you can in basketball. With my arm, I don't tell myself that I am better or worse than others. Instead, I assure myself that I deserve to play. I like defense because it's something that you can work at. If you work really hard on defense, you earn your playing time. Shooting is kind of hard for me because I don't get as much of a grip on the ball. At the same time, shooting is my favorite because I don't really have to worry about two movements for shooting. I only have one. The main thing I focus on is my ball-handling. I have to think of different tricks because people like to play me to my right, since I can't really dribble with my right arm. I can't dribble right across people with my left arm because they will steal it. I'm very passionate about basketball. To build my confidence I tell myself that I am a great player because I have to prove it to myself."

WIZ KID Comment by C. CAMERON

RYAN WITZMAN

"I skipped third grade, but it wasn't bad. I studied in the summer and already knew a lot of people in the other grade, so I had friends. School is a little easy for me, so skipping a grade was just better than if I hadn't. Math is easy, but some classes are challenging like Language Arts; I just have to study more for that one. Some subjects just come naturally to me. I've been doing Math Counts and History and Geography Club since seventh grade. They're really fun and I have a lot of friends there. It's nice to do things I'm interested in; Math is my best subject, and I like learning about the past. I've also had pretty good history teachers that have taught me to love history. I started going to the high school for math this year. I ran out of math courses to take here, so I'm taking Algebra Two there. The class is mostly freshmen, and I go there for first and second period, but my favorite part of school is lunch because I get to talk to my friends. My dad went to Notre Dame, so I think it'd be pretty cool if I went too. I'm studying a lot in school. I like statistics and I want to be a mathematician when I grow up."

PERFORMER Content by A. JULIEN

JOHN WICKHAM

"During my concerts, I usually sing or I play any type of drum, the piano and the guitar. I mostly prefer to sing though. I feel like it expresses the emotion of the song more. I do three or more shows a month. I do it with other organizations like school choir, school band, ICC and Percussion Club. My first show was in a third grade choir concert at Maple Glen. It was extremely fun. Whenever the kids in the choir and I would wait in the waiting room, we would all mess up each others' ties and flip them sideways for fun. My favorite concert was on Valentine's Day this year. ICC performed a concert at a retirement home. We had a ukulele club, and I played the guitar. We had a lot of fun with everyone there. I don't usually do solo performances by myself, but I do go around the school on holidays and perform for classes. I have had solos for choir though. I hope in the future to be able to work for some sort of recording company or music company and write my own music."

DOG TREAT BAKER

Content by A. JULIEN

MACKENZIE WHITESSELL

"I have always genuinely liked dogs and baking, so I came up with the idea to start raising money for dog shelters or the Humane Society. I thought of baking and selling treats for dogs. My business is called Cake Pops for Canines. The money I receive from it goes to charities to support those furry friends. The first thing I remember was creating the Facebook page on January 3rd for my business with my mom and dad. It was so much fun. When I first started, my mom helped me purchase supplies until I could earn enough money to buy it on my own. My dad also manages the Facebook page because I can't have social media. They both still support me with those things to this day. But I don't just make dogs treats. I also bake treats for people too. My favorite thing to make or decorate is cake. I enjoy it because it is like an art project, but you get to eat it after. All I want out of this is to help support the dogs and give them better care."

DISNEY WORLD ENTHUSIAST Content by C. CAMERON

"The whole Disney thing comes from my mom. I think I've either been 11 or 12 times. My mom likes Disney World a lot, and has been there a bunch too. She likes having fun like a kid. I know a lot about Disney World. We have a lot of board games about Disney, and I've done a bunch of trivia on it. I've gone with my mom, dad, sister, grandma, grandpa and friends. When we go, we always stay for a full week and visit all the parks. We've stayed in a couple of hotels, too. We also go to Universal. The trips are long. It takes 15 hours to get there, and we always drive. I plan on going back this summer. I've gone every summer except for one. We like to go to Disney World in Orlando. It's always so energetic there. Disney World is filled with a bunch of lights, and a ton of people are always there moving around. It's really fun. It doesn't make me tired. I mean, I walk around all day, so I can't get tired. The energy is contagious there."

LLAMA HANDLER Content by C. CAMERON

NICK GILBERT

"I would describe my llama, Chiara, as outgoing. She runs around a ton, and gets all happy when I visit her. I got Chiara two years ago when she was at another farm in Chicago. My sister had a llama before me. I thought it was really cool, so I wanted one too. We have her at a farm, and she's three years old now. We visit her around twice a week and train with her by jumping over obstacles. We usually use tubes or walk on stairs. We also travel all around the United States to take her to shows. My sister showed as well. I've won twice. I got some ribbons and some medals in Mississippi and in Illinois. The last show I went to was in Illinois. I like showing her because I like being around animals and teaching them. Sometimes we take Chiara to my grandpa's church so the little kids can see. We go to a lot of different places and fundraisers, too. Having a llama takes a lot of work and it's stressful sometimes. I may want to hang out with friends, but then I need to take care of Chiara. I'm at the farm all the time. I think she likes me and I love her so much."

MUSICIAN Content by A. JULEEN
SYDNEY MULLER

"I've loved music my whole life so whenever I perform something, I really like to play or sing pop music. I mostly like that genre because of all of the new hits that are coming out. I also play different types of music as well, and I play a lot of different instruments. I originally started by playing the piano. When I was first doing lessons, we had to do these fake competitions. We had to go to this church and I got graded on my performance. It was mostly on what your dynamics were or how well you had played the piece. It was really nerve-racking and I always hated those. I got a really good score the first time I did one. That moment kept me wanting to play more piano, and maybe even more music. My dad really enjoys music as well. He has many instruments in our house and he really likes to sing too. Whenever we would watch TV, my dad would play the guitar, but now my dad and I usually play music together."

DRAGON TAMER Content by C. CAMERON
HAYDEN SETTLES

"I got Norbert for my birthday in September. I'd been asking for him since I was three because I like lizards; I think they look really cool. Norbert is a bearded dragon. He's from California, and is really energetic because he runs around his cage a lot. Norbert really likes me. He doesn't attack me like he does with other people. He's caused my sister to bleed a lot. One time, she was trying to grab him from his cage and he just jumped up and bit her. I also have two frogs named Kermit and Slippy, a fish named James, another lizard named Sunny and two dogs named Tucker and Lucy. My dogs love to have him for protection, and my other lizard, Sunny, hates him because they got in a fight when we first got Sunny. He's my favorite pet because he is the only one of my pets that I actually own. I have a YouTube channel featuring Norbert with like 18 videos. They're mainly just of me feeding him, giving him baths and stuff like that. I started making videos when I saw that other people made videos of their pets, so I decided I wanted to do it too. My life would be a lot different if I didn't have Norbert. I would definitely have more space in my room, but I would miss him. I like Norbert a lot and he means a lot to me."

ROCK COLLECTOR Content by A. JULEEN

WILL BEARD

"I first started collecting rocks and sticks when I was seven. When I was little, I would find many cool rocks in the woods, so I started adding sticks into the mix. I really got inspired to start gathering them when I saw a video on YouTube of people collecting rocks with fossils and gems in them. One of the rocks I can remember finding started out on a sunny day. I was at the park riding my bicycle when I hit some sort of rock. When I fell off my bike, I picked up the rock and it had some sort of gem or jewel inside. I thought it was brilliant, so I started collecting more and more. In the future, I want to either keep them or put them back where they belong."

CUBER

DYLAN FLOWERS

"I first started solving Rubik's Cubes during the summer between fifth grade and sixth grade. I had a friend that moved away that liked them, and I thought that was cool. He actually got me a Rubik's Cube for my birthday that year. I first realized I liked solving them when I solved a three by three Rubik's Cube. I thought it was so shocking. Now, I usually solve three by three cubes, two by two cubes and a pyramid one called the Pyraminx. My fastest record so far is 45 seconds. When I first started completing them on the bus, everyone was like, 'Wow, you can actually solve Rubik's Cubes.' My overall goal is to just solve more and more types of Rubik's Cubes in the near future."

DECLAN MITCHELL

"Michigan University published the story 'Declan Mitchell and the Joy He Brings' on Feb. 18. The feature was in the Sports Monday Column of the Michigan Daily was about Declan and his love for sports. Specifically, he loves the NBA, and he really likes Michigan University. His mom went there for a little bit, and his grandma went there, too. He always has lots of Michigan gear to wear. I think the sports reporter at Michigan University really wanted to do a story on Declan because he has a tie with Michigan University. He also likes basketball and basketball teams. Almost every day, he wears an NBA jersey. He knows a lot of players and loves to identify the people associated with the numbers on the jerseys. He loves the Miami Heat; he loves the logo. Whenever he wears his jersey, he talks about the Heat. The feature was also able to shed a spotlight on his Hunter Syndrome. The story's main focus was about what his disability is, what the symptoms are and what his family life is like. He liked seeing the picture of himself in the newspaper."

DIGGER'S BUDDY Content by A. JULIEN

MASON UNTON

"My service dog is named Digger. I first got him when he was two years old. I've had him for five years. I've got Cerebral Palsy and I have seizures as well, so I have to have him. He just pushes a button if I do have some sort of reaction so I can get help. My relationship with him is absolutely amazing. I couldn't think of having any other dog. I felt the connection when I first saw him. I have 41 commands with him. One of my favorites to do is 'Digger shake.' It was so funny, when I first got him, the people said that Digger chose me. I know it was only to tell me what dog I got, but it felt so special since I was the only one to Digger."

LIFESAVER Content by C. CAMERON

MR. SEAN GREEN

"I was at Sahn Golf Course in late September. I was getting ready to play golf when I heard someone shouting for help near the first hole. I looked over, and there was a guy flailing his arms around frantically. There was another guy on the ground not moving, so I ran over to them to see what was going on. I wanted to help. I checked his breathing, and he was not breathing. He didn't have a pulse. So, immediately I yelled at someone to call 911, and I started doing CPR. I was hoping the EMTs were going to arrive soon because I didn't know if I was doing CPR correctly, or if I was doing anything to help at all. I continued doing chest compressions until the EMTs arrived seven or eight minutes later. It was frantic. It's one of those things where you have training to do it, but it's been a year or so, and you don't know if you're doing things correctly. After they took him to the hospital, I was still shaking for the first four holes that I was golfing until I found out he was going to be okay. Since then, I've talked to him on the phone once about how he was doing, and if he was okay. He said that I separated one of his ribs doing the CPR. It's something that I supposed to happen. He said he'd take that any day over the alternative. We're planning on playing golf together this summer. It had been his first time being at that golf course, and everyone there was a complete stranger except for his son-in-law, who was the one who had been calling for help. It was pleasant to talk to him. I think that everyone should have to get CPR certified. I didn't arrive at the golf course thinking that I was going to perform CPR on anyone. You never know what can happen."

WHICH IS YOUR FAVORITE GOLF DRIVING AROUND CLUB?

"I like to use a six iron because I like to chip."
- Cade Parker (7)

"My favorite club is the driver because it gives you the best approach shot which makes it easiest to get a good score."
- Cohen Steill (7)

"I like to use my driver because I can hit it the farthest."
- Nathan Keeley (7)

"My favorite club is a driver because it feels really good when you hit the sweet spot."

YOU GOT SERVED

THE GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM GIVES SERVING TIPS

"Serving is just like throwing a ball so you have to bring your leg forward to hit it with the racket. Determination is a big part of playing Tennis, so you have to keep doing what you're doing to get better."
- Hannah Lightner (7)

"For serving, I would say you have to accelerate, or reach up for the ball, and follow through. You also have to remember to keep going and not give up even though there are girls that are better than you."
- Isabella Norris (7)

"When serving, you have to be careful about how hard you hit the ball so it stays within the box, but you can't over think or else you will mess up. I am still learning everything about Tennis. You have to listen to the advice others give you so you can get better and figure out how to do everything."

WHAT ARE THE PROS AND CONS OF YOUR SOFTBALL POSITION? PITCH IN

Comment by C. KESSLER
Design by L. SCHLEPER

PROS

"You have complete control on how fast or slow the game goes, cause you control the pitch speed."

"I am taller than most kids so I can stretch my legs and reach for the ball if they throw it somewhere that most kids can't get."

"You get a hold of the ball in most outs."

KENZIE HIATT (7) PITCHER

ALLISON SCHOR (8) FIRST BASE

TESSA WOLFE (7) FIRST BASE

CONS

"Your arm gets really tired of pitching."

"If you don't get the out the blame is mostly on you."

"You can easily get discouraged. Everyone has to maintain a good mentality in order to keep playing the game."

WHAT ARE YOU LOOKING FORWARD TO IN THE BASEBALL SEASON?

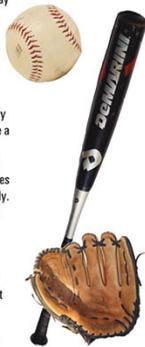

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

Comment by E. ZABORONSKI
Design by L. SCHLEPER

"Usually I play third base and catcher. I began playing baseball when I was 7 years old. When I was younger my dad said I should play baseball and I did. So I can't wait to play against other experienced teams because it makes the game more challenging."
-Collin Lindsey (8)

"My positions vary, but I play almost everywhere except first base and catcher. My favorite position to play is shortstop because a lot of the balls are hit to me and I can make good plays. But hitting is challenging for me because some pitchers have really fast pitches and you have to be able to see the ball quickly. I'm excited to have a good season and make new friends."
-Carter Cooney (7)

"I've played second base and centerfield for 12 years. Hitting is the most challenging part for me because people can throw tricky pitches. On the other hand I look forward to having supportive teammates and an overall great season as a team."
-Carter Friedman (8)

WHAT EVENTS DO YOU DO? BACK ON TRACK

"I like doing the 800 meter run in long distance. I like that you don't have to sprint the whole thing. My favorite thing about the first practice was seeing all my friends there."
- Kennedy Darts (8)

"I do sprints, so I'll do either 100 meter or 200 meter sprints. Other people have more endurance, but I like sprinting. The first practice felt good to be back into it because I did it last year. My fastest time for the 100 meter sprint was 12.9 seconds."
- John Miles (8)

"I do the long jump and hurdles. In long jump, you run until you get to an eight foot jumping spot and then you jump eight foot and into the sand. I like competing against the other girls to try and get the highest score. I liked seeing how many of my friends tried it out on first practice."
- Vivien Rector (8)

"I do sprints because I'm fast and I can't keep my speed for a long time. I do 100 and 200 meter sprints. I like running with my friends at practice. I want to win a lot this season because I'm competitive, so I want to have one of the fastest times."
- Taelyn Russell (7)

BEHIND THE SOUNDS

"Before games we warm up by doing scales and running through our music. I like just playing my instrument and I like going to the basketball games and having fun and yelling."
- Eden Hogsett (8) Clarinet

"We typically just run through our music before the game, but sometimes we redo a few pieces. I like all of the music we play and it's really fun to play."
- Katie Turner (8) Alto Saxophone

"We rehearse all of the songs in the band room an hour before the game starts. It helps us to know that we know the songs."
- Josh Santiago (7) Alto Saxophone

WE LOVE AMERICAN SIGN LANGUAGE BECAUSE BREAKING BARRIERS

"...it is such a beautiful thing that is such a huge way of communicating with people that can't hear. It is amazing because it acts as a solution to a problem that is very widespread. I wanted to join because my dad is facilitating people with disabilities, and I can see the impact he has on others. I want to be able to meet and have a conversation with deaf people in the real world."
- Amaya Smith (7)

"...it is such an interesting language to learn. Because you can convey words with not only your mouth, but with your hands. I had 40% hearing loss about a year ago from an unknown cause. I really wanted to join so if the hearing loss came back I would be prepared on how to communicate with others."
- Katelyn Alford (7)

KITTY CLUB MAKES CRAFTS, TOYS AND PENCIL POUCHES

Kitty Club members Orion Clark (8) and Maya Hinshaw (8) make cat toys out of straws and yarn. Later, they donated them to the Humane Society. Photo by J. DIETZ

"My favorite thing was making the cat toys because we got to donate them. It was really nice to know we are helping animals."
- Maya Hinshaw (8)

"My favorite activity was the Valentine's Day one. We had little bags and cat stickers and we designed the bags. We used lots of stickers and lots of glitter."
- Josh Young (8)

"We made the toy because it is probably one of the cat's favorite games. It was really fun."
- Orion Clark (8)

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE FITNESS CAMP ACTIVITY?

NO PAIN, NO GAIN

"Conditioning is a big part of Fitness Camp. We usually start conditioning in the second half of practice after lifting and stretching. We usually run suicides or hip tires. My favorite part of conditioning is running. Fitness Camp allows me to work harder every day."
- Logan McKinnon (8)

MEDIA ARTS

"The main part of practice is in the balcony, which is the upper level of the gym where weights are. We do bench presses, squats, power cleans. I really enjoy the balcony because you get to gain strength and the coach pushes every practice to work harder."
- Evan Kondrat (7)

"Bench presses are my favorite workout at Fitness Camp. We do them at practice around once a week. I really enjoy them because they push you to work harder and get stronger. They are also fun when you are working out with your friends."
- Jack Yochum (7)

"We always end practice with my favorite dynamic stretches. During dynamic stretches, we do high knees and A-Skips. This part of practice helps make sure you're not sore and helps your overall fitness."
- Tyler Brown (7)

Content and Design by L. SCHLEPER

"I went on to the tournament and played with Mr. Green. I liked playing with the adults because it gave me more of a competition, and I like competition."
 -Rachel Kovacs (7)

"I did really well in the qualifiers and ended up going to the tournament. I liked the tournament because it was fun to play against another community."
 - Kyle Lienhart (7)

"I liked the qualifiers because if you didn't make it there were other rounds you could do to still get into it. I didn't end up making it, but I just liked how everyone had a chance to compete and make it into the tournament."

JOSEPH MALEY TROUPE PUPPETEER'S PUPPETS

JM's friends puppets appear courtesy of the Joseph Maley Foundation

PUPPET PALS

*Content by A. ABELMAN
Design by L. SCHLEPER*

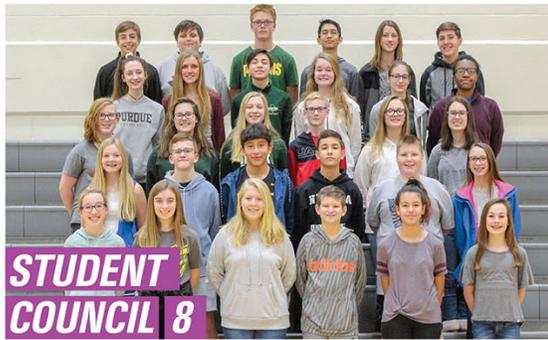

"I mainly play Jennifer. I like Jennifer because I can definitely relate to her. She likes to sing, dance and her clothes are a little weird. I can relate to that. She has been the puppet I've used since the summer camp so figuring out how to get into her character and the voice is easy. I like that we get to go around to different schools and spread disability awareness so kids can be aware of how they should treat others."
- Luci Bluto (8)

"I mainly play Mark Riley. He's a boss, obviously. He's the funny kid who is quick to make a joke and he is just all around a cool dude. Kids love him. There was this one time at Oak Trace where one of the kids asked to see the puppeteers, so we all brought the puppets out and the kids were talking to Mark Riley and asking how I do the voice. I do the voice by taking my tongue and putting it on the roof of my mouth. It's really fun to see the kids light up when the puppets come out."
- Mahlon Ilyas (8)

"I probably use Valerie the most. Valerie is a cheerleader and cheerleaders are sassy in that kind of way. She is very in charge and is bubbly. I like using her because she has a disability that is unique. I know a lot of kids today don't understand that everyone is the same. I feel like if we push that onto younger kids more, they will understand that better and be less mean."
- Nicole Hughes (8)

WHAT ARE ACADEMIC TEAM'S WEAKEST AND STRONGEST SUBJECTS?

SMART PARTS

*Content by A. ABELMAN
Design by L. SCHLEPER*

"Math is my strongest subject because my grandmother was a teacher, and she's always showed me multiple ways to do problems so, I understand them. My weakest subject is probably Language Arts because if you think about it, Math is a very critical thinking class and Language Arts has a ton of rules that don't stay the same. So, I'm used to sticking to one thing and when Language Arts changes the rules, I always mess that up."
- Will Hessler (7)

"My strongest subject would be Social Studies, mostly because I usually get the highest grades in Social Studies and also because it's easier for me to analyze history and formulate responses. I have a passion for history. I like learning about things that have happened in the past and how we can use them to grow. My weakest subject would probably be Math not because I don't enjoy it, but because usually Math has fixed responses. So if you don't get the exact response then you're wrong immediately."

"I am pretty mad about the new start times next year because students who play sports will get home later. I would rather just keep the same school times we have right now because we get out early. At the same time, I feel like everyone will be more awake during the day."
- Dominic Marckese (7)

"The school times next year don't really affect me because I don't play a school sport after school. I think that it's better that school starts later because we can get more sleep in the morning. Since we will start later I think that students will be able to function better and stay focused during the school day."
- Tiffany Chantermy (8)

"I kind of like the new start times next year because I'll get to sleep in, but then we get out of school later. I feel like it won't make a big difference because we will adjust to the new times. In fact, I'd rather start later than earlier because I will be more energized instead of being exhausted."
- Emma Dodson (8)

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION ON ASMR? Created by A. ASHMAN Design by L. SCHLEPER

ASMR YOU SERIOUS?

"I think ASMR is pretty stupid because it's not that hard to make random noises into a microphone."
- Carson Melnick (8)

"ASMR is weird. It's just sounds that are going through your headphones and it's supposed to make you feel all weird. It's not that bad but it's supposed to make you feel tired like if you need help with sleeping."
- Terry Howard (8)

"I think it's stupid because there is no point to it."
- Jacob Good (7)

"I don't see the appeal but every person is different. It's just noises and noises happen all the time and like one specific noise is supposed to suddenly be soothing when a bunch of noises could be."
- Tasha Zabinski (7)

HAVE YOU DONE THE "IN MY FEELINGS" DANCE CHALLENGE?
Created by KATHLEEN
Designed by L.SCHLIPPER

STEP BY STEP

"It's dangerous considering you jump out of a car and dance on the road."
- Anna DelGreco (8)

"I did it because it was fun and trendy. It was fun because I like to dance and the dance is creative."
- Claire Brown (8)

"I didn't do the 'In My Feelings' challenge because I thought it was really cringy. I found it to be really weird."
- Audrey Deckard (8)

"I haven't done it because I've never heard of it."
- Cade Parker (7)

THE GAMES WE PLAY

HOW DO YOU THINK PLAYING VIDEO GAMES AFFECTS YOUR HEALTH?

POSITIVE

"I play video games and I think it is good because it helps you relax but they can also make you tired."
- Libby Cadwallader (7)

"I talk to my friends through video games sometimes and that effects my social health."
- Jackson Chapman (7)

"I feel like there is minimal negative effect of video games especially compared to what news outlets say."
- John Heard (8)

"I play video games and I think it is positive for your health because they can be fun and it is a great way to get out your extra energy."
- Hadley Wetschurack (7)

NEGATIVE

"I play video games, and I feel like they are bad for your health because you are sitting for an hour not doing anything educational."
- Isaiah Willis (8)

"I don't play video games but I feel like they are bad for you because they can hurt your eyes."
- Emma Oakley (8)

"They can be negative especially with violence and cussing if you play them constantly."
- Carter Matteson (7)

"I play video games sometimes and I think it is worse for your health because you can be outside doing something or something else that's better for you."
- Jack Peterson (8)

WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT GLOBAL WARMING?

Comment by L. SHUPE / Design by L. SCHLEPER

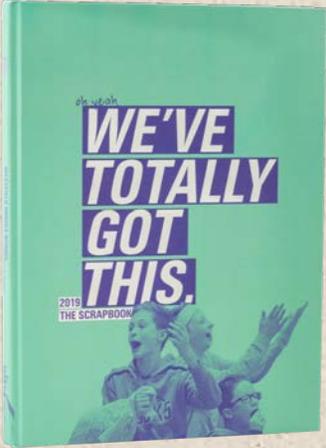

EXTREME TEMPERATURE CHANGES DURING THE WEEK OF JAN. 28 - FEB. 4

"Global warming is a huge problem we need to fix. The main issue is factories over producing more products than they need. We have already had big problems with weather and temperature, the polar vortex for example. When the ice caps melted up North it got a lot colder near the equator."
- Sam Myers (8)

"In a simple form, I think global warming is bad. If the Earth keeps on heating up at this rapid pace a lot of valuable species and land will disappear. When the last generation used a lot of heavy machinery they released carbon emissions that are causing the atmosphere to heat up. A small way to help could be driving in cars less."
- Olivia Emrich (7)

"Global warming is a pressing issue we need to fix soon. Major companies are putting a lot of pollution into the air in the form of carbon. When the carbon is released into the air it is hurting the ozone layer which is letting heat in and causing temperatures to rise. Using clean energy like hydroelectricity and solar electricity would help decrease the means of global warming."
- Ava Menard (7)

oh yeah
WE'VE TOTALLY GOT THIS.

A lot happened this year. Our school's been in the process of renovation all year, and we created this theme to say "Oh Yeah, We've Totally Got This." even when we felt like we didn't. Our phrase hints at the many situations that made this year confusing, fast-paced and filled with new and unexpected experiences like power outages, random fire alarms going off and more. The vivid colors and bold fonts create a bold and confident tone, even if we aren't always sure that things will work out - we're gonna fake it until we make it. Last year's book featured a customized insert that was popular amongst our community, and we wanted to continue the individualized aspect this year. We gave everyone the chance to pick their book cover color, out of three color combo choices, to make it theirs.

RECOGNITION AND THANK YOU'S

Thank you to our principal, Mr. Ryan Haughey, for showing so much support for our yearbook program. Also, thank you to our secretaries, Mrs. Plumer, Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Dummit, Mrs. Haggard, Mrs. Dickson and Mrs. Pratt for helping us with anything we needed. Thank you to the lunch monitors for allowing us to call up students. A big thanks to the teachers for letting us pull kids out of SRT and for allowing staffers to miss class to take photos. Thank you to all coaches and club advisers for giving us permission to take pictures of any practices, games and meetings we needed. Major thanks to Ball State Journalism workshops and Kim Green, and to Sarah Verpooten and Nancy Hastings for helping us develop our theme. Thank you to our rep Kim Minnich for helping us get everything done on time, bringing us donuts and always having an answer to our stream of crazy questions. Thank you to our CSA Lisa Merino for dealing with all of our frantic tech questions with grace. Thank you Profe Smith for teaching us yoga and being our roomie, staying patient with the tables always moving and food left out from long work days and for keeping Spanish students away from the yearbook computers and more. This yearbook would not have happened without the help of all of you.

The 4 color endsheets are printed on vibracolor white paper stock. The 152 pages are printed on 100# gloss paper stock. The fonts used were AHJ Unitus Cond family and B-MCE. "The Scrapbook" was produced using eDesign, Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Lightroom, Adobe Illustrator and Adobe Indesign. The cameras used include four Canon Rebel T3is, one Canon Rebel T2i, one Canon T7i and one Canon T5i. Other equipment consists of twelve iMacs and Lifetouch provided student portraits and team/group portraits.

ERRORS AND POLICIES

"The Scrapbook" yearbook is a publication for student expression by the Westfield Middle School community. "The Scrapbook" is student-run and created by seventh and eighth grade students as a class project. The content, design, reporting and overall decisions are made by students, with guidance from their adviser. This is not a professional publication, and though we want complete accuracy, mistakes always happen. We apologize if any errors reached the final printing stage. Name data for portraits were collected from the district level. Scoreboard and name data for groups, clubs and sports was collected from club/group leaders the students themselves and the athletic department; not pictured lists were not possible for all groups and sports.

The 41st volume of "The Scrapbook" and the 2018 yearbook staff received the following honors

Most of all, thank you to our adviser, Ms. Staub. You believed in us, even when we didn't believe in ourselves. You kept us moving through every deadline and made sure we got everything done on time. Thank you for making us oreo balls, even though making deadlines wasn't always smooth and you didn't have much time out of class. Thank you for continuing to be honest with us and making sure this is a book we're proud of. Thank you for motivating us, even when that meant bringing in the toddler therapy and getting little work done. Thank you for staying after school for work days/nights, even when there were only three of us left and we begged you to stay longer. Finally, thank you for making an incredible book that every single staffer is going to be immensely proud of. You took students that didn't know anything about yearbook and gave us the ability to create something so amazing with you.

"The Scrapbook" vol. 42 was produced by the 2019 yearbook staff at Westfield Middle School in Westfield, Indiana. It was printed by Herff Jones publishing company in Edwardsville, Kansas. Overall production of "Oh Yeah, We've Totally Got This." was overseen by service representative Lisa Merino and our Herff Jones representative Kim Minnich. The theme was developed at Ball State University's Summer Media Academy by the WMS Yearbook staff. The cover and endsheet were designed by the WMS Yearbook staff. All 800 copies of "The Scrapbook" were sold for $38 from June through Sept. 7, then for $43 from Sept. 8 to Jan. 13. The final price from Jan. 14 to Feb. 20 was $48. The yearbook sold out on Feb. 20.

Finally, thank you to the students. Thank you for letting us constantly call you up on the microphone. Thanks for letting us pull you out of class and lunch for an interviews and for answering the weird, random questions we ask. Thank you for allowing us to capture your school year. Even though our names are in the credits, at the end of the day, this is our book.

Your book. The book.

Sincerely,
Delainey Wallace and Molly Neff - theme editors
and the WMS Yearbook Staff

2.
1. HOLD THE FORT. Playing a game called Castle in SRT with Arthur Michelstetter (7), Hayden Galovic (7) jumps to block a volleyball. In Castle, two teams try to knock the other team's cones over with volleyballs, and with only one cone left for his team, Galovic knew the pressure was on. "There was a ball coming at our cone and I had to make sure that the cone wouldn't be knocked over," Galovic said. Photo by B. CLARK 2. MORE THAN AWARENESS. Sporting a pink bandana around his head, Corbin Patrick (7) and the rest of the Trailblazer team pose for Mr. Loeffel as he takes a group photo during the team's Pink Out event for breast cancer awareness on Oct. 26. The entire team could choose to buy a pink bandana, with the proceeds going to cancer research, or wear their own pink gear for the fundraiser. "I was excited I got to wear my pink bandana," Patrick said. "Everyone was happy and I got to enjoy school more, but I wanted to dress up because my grandma had breast cancer and survived. I was glad to support her." Photo by O. FLYNN

so yeah

AS MUCH AS WE COMPLAINED ABOUT THE THINGS THAT WENT WRONG, WE GOT THROUGH IT TOGETHER.

1. SCREAM AND SHOUT. Mallory Neale (8) and Gigi Ivino (8) win a tough point on Nov. 30 at the NJHS volleyball fundraiser. The fundraiser was very different from regular volleyball games because the students picked their costumes and their teams. "The coolest thing about the NJHS volleyball tournament is we could play against our friends because we don't get to do that and play our friends with no pressure," Neale said. Photo by A. MOTSINGER

2. FAULTY FOUNDATION. As preparations for a "Bye Bye Birdie" dress rehearsal continue, Kate Stelling (7) fixes the blush on Charlie Schultz (8). Stelling helped with the boys' makeup which consisted of foundation, blush and lipstick. "We didn't have the right foundation, so a couple of the boys looked like oranges," Stelling said. Photo by D. AS WEIRD AS HAVING BLACKOUTS, RANDOM FIRE ALARMS AND AN IMPROMPTU TRIP TO THE INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL WAS, IT ALL CONNECTED US WITH MEMORIES WE WILL ALWAYS HAVE.

BUT WE'RE STILL WONDERING,
DID WE HAVE IT?

WE DID IT
WE NAILED IT

oh yeah
WE'VE TOTALLY
THIS.

DEFEND THE KINGDOM. During a 25-minute SRT break, Faith Foster (7) and the rest of the Explorer team played Castle on Mar. 22. Castle is an intense game where you have to defend the cones on your side of the court and knock down the other teams, and it's one of Foster's favorites. "It's my favorite game we play because it is so fun and competitive," Foster said. "It gets really competitive when you are playing against your friends and knock down their cones." Photo by B. oh yeah

WE'VE TOTALLY GOT THIS.

OUTNUMBERED. On Jan. 29, Girls' Basketball player Autumn Packard (8) sprints down the court with the ball during a tough game against Zionsville East. The team only had 9 players during the game and lost with a score of 25-23. "I was stealing the ball from the other team trying to score a basket on our side of the court," Packard said. "The game was really hard because the girls were a lot taller and more aggressive. We didn't have very many subs that games and as a team, we all put in a lot of effort by trying our hardest during the game." Photo by C. AMIRHANZEH
