

Students At Work

Two students who work at both smoothie restaurants share their opinions

Junior Emma Ronning

"It's a lot healthier in my opinion," Ronning said. "You can customize the smoothies more [at Smoothie King]. You can switch out the extras."

Sophomore Nadia Kindt

"I feel like there is a better variety for picky eaters at Tropical Smoothie Cafe," Kindt said.

Tropical Smoothie Cafe

Ratings and comparisons of three similar drinks from each place

Kiwi Quencher

This smoothie was the best from Tropical Smoothie Cafe. It was sweeter than its counterpart, which we enjoyed. It overall had a slightly better flavor, so it wins for the strawberry and kiwi category.

Mango Magic

This drink competed well with its counterpart, but it was overall less flavorful and tasted slightly watered down compared to "Island Impact" causing it to lose in the mango and pineapple category.

Blueberry Bliss

Tropical Smoothie Cafe's "Blueberry Bliss" had a good consistency, but the banana overpowered the strawberry and blueberry, causing it to lose merit in the flavor category. This drink was our least favorite of those we tried.

Smoothie King

with winning drinks highlighted

Strawberry Kiwi Breeze

This drink was good overall and both the kiwi and strawberry flavors shined through.

Both this drink and its Tropical Smoothie Cafe counterpart were fairly similar in taste, though it was a bit more tart.

Island Impact

This Smoothie King drink provided a deliciously tropical combination both mango and pineapple flavors. It was not only our favorite drink from Smoothie King, but also our favorite overall.

Banana Berry Treat

This smoothie had a very strong flavor, but the seeds were distracting when drinking it. Despite this, it was the winner in the blueberry and banana category because of its great flavor.

by emma clement
editor in chief

by maddie martin
writer/photographer

Junior Emma Ronning scoops ingredients into a customized Banana Berry Treat smoothie at Smoothie King Friday, Oct. 13. photo by olivia peters

SMOOTHIE

JagWire reporters review both new smoothie places to

WARS

decide which is better

Student Selection

Students share their smoothie favorites.

Smoothie King
Tropical Smoothie Cafe

Survey of 164 students

Which do you prefer?