twopeat

Class of 2024 wins the float contest 2 years in a row.

"How do you guys come up with the layout of the float? And is it hard to get people to participate?"

"For sophomore and junior year we had mostly the same layout. We designed it so we have a ceiling to be able to hang things on or hold things up. We also have a railing that usually goes around to keep people on."

As for the design and what we are going to have, we usually start off with just a spur of ideas. We think of things that remind us of the theme and as we go along with building we alter the projects and different designs. It is kind of hard to get people to participate. It's hard to find a time that works well with everyone because of all the different sports, clubs, and work."

Senior year was the hardest! We had a hard time finding the motivation to build and not that many people wanted to help out, mainly just ride the float."

go back in time

Q: If there is one thing you wish you could tell your younger self, what would it be? Why?

Hannah Connor - "High school gets a lot better. Don't worry about your classes or the people you hangout with. Just be with who makes you feel the best and stop thinking about what people think of you."

Tyrell Adams - "Life is a journey filled with ups and downs. Embrace the challenges, learn from them, and keep moving forward. I wish someone would've told me that there were going to be challenges in high school"

this is old traditions

Since 2019, a pep assembly hasn't touched the West High gym. The global pandemic "COVID-19" or "Coronavirus" has prevented these traditional activities. The tragic event has left the whole building without knowing what a pep assembly looks or sounds like. As students packed the gym at 7:45am you could feel the spirit fill the room. The cheerleaders and dance team kicked off the pep assembly, performing the 'Fight Song'. After, fall sports athletes and band members talked on the microphone, thanking the student body for their support.

q&a

with Charlotte Gettman
Q: What all are you/ have you been involved in during your time at West?

A: I have played basketball all four years as well as running track. I am in the National Honor Society and lead a prayer group. I also co-lead a missional community through Hope City Church at the Women's Center for Change.

Q: What are you looking forward to most about being on court?

A: To be chosen by my peers as someone who deserves the honor of being on homecoming court is such a good feeling. I'm so excited to use my platform to spread my faith and all that God has done for me. I can't wait to represent my school and meet new people.
