

EL SOL

Issue XIV- 2024

A National Pacemaker Magazine

A photograph of a Native American man in traditional regalia, including a large feathered headdress and a yellow headband. He is holding a large eagle on a branch. The background shows a blue sky and a dreamcatcher. The man is looking to the left. The eagle is perched on a branch and is looking to the left. The man is wearing a blue and yellow striped shirt with a red rose design. The eagle has brown and white feathers. The background is a clear blue sky with some clouds. A dreamcatcher is visible in the lower left corner. The man is holding the eagle with both hands. The eagle's wings are spread out. The man's face is in profile, looking towards the left. The eagle's head is also in profile, looking towards the left. The man's headdress is made of many feathers, some brown and some white. The yellow headband has a black line through it. The man's shirt has a blue and yellow striped pattern with a red rose design. The eagle's branch is made of wood and has some yellow and red ribbons tied to it. The dreamcatcher has a white web and a brown frame. The overall scene is a traditional Native American ceremony or dance.

All Heaven Breaking Loose

Thunderous drums, joyous song and healing dance announce a new age for Indigenous Americans