

SEASONAL FASHION TRENDS

Fashion trends are one of the many things that change all year around. Fall fashion and winter fashion are sometimes things that go pretty hand-in-hand. Here are some of the ones for 2023. (by Kaylee Priest)

CHUNKY SWEATERS

On chilly, cozy fall days when people want to be cute and still cozy, chunky sweaters are the perfect thing to throw on and can be paired with pretty much any fall or winter outfit with the ability to dress up or down. Chunky sweaters are commonly worn with baggy jeans or some kind of skirt.

"I think chunky sweaters are so cute, they keep me warm and are so easy to style," sophomore Ava Bax said.

HAIR BOWS

Sometimes adding the final touch to your outfit is hard to find. Hair bows have seemed to be a more dainty way to add elegance or a more girly look to an outfit. It can be as simple as tying a strand of ribbon up into braids, or one can buy clip-on silk bows from any store, giving an outfit the final touch it needs.

"I think they are cute because they bring out a feminine side," junior Faith Smith said.

SLOUCHY SOCKS

Slouchy socks are a longer but typically thicker sock that naturally slouch down to give a careless cozy look to any seasonal outfit. They are currently trendy to wear with things like mini UGG boots, Converse or Birkenstock clogs. As shown in the image, this is a pair of slouchy socks paired with mini UGGs.

"They tie your outfit together perfectly, they keep your feet warm, preventing you from having to put on multiple layers," sophomore Ava Bartlett said.

MINI UGG BOOTS

Mini UGG boots, a new take on the classic UGG boot, are the perfect fall or early winter staple since they are not too tall, thick or heavy, pairing great with a pair of leggings or a baggy pair of jeans makes them perfect for a cozy fall outfit.

"Well, I'm pretty short so I think they look way better on me than the super tall ones," sophomore Mykole Hogge said.

BAGGY JEANS

A more alternative take on an everyday piece of clothing, baggy jeans are just a loose-fitted pair of regular jeans giving the "careless, trendy" look to any outfit. They are more commonly worn in winter with UGG boots or some sort of close-toed shoe. In the fall, worn with Converse or sneakers.

"Baggy jeans make me feel more like myself, like I don't have to live up to the expectations of being lady like," sophomore Chloe Fiely said.
