

KICKING UP THEIR LEGS in a synchronized motion, dancers, from all grade levels, circles around each other while holding drumsticks.

K. McLendon

FORMING A LINE, dancers of all grades perform in the piece titled "Open Hearts." It was shown near the end of the show and displayed hip-hop style choreography.

V. Saenz-Daza

"Dancin'" Around

The dance department holds the annual fall concert in Meyer Hall

RAISING THEIR HANDS, dance juniors Mason Hart and Addy Kolanz perform in the piece, "The Noise Within." "Dancing at this show meant growth to me," Kolanz said. "I had to learn a lot in this show, (but) being able to dance as a duo is really fun (and) it's definitely something super special. It's very different from dancing as a group or as a solo (because) there are so many more layers to it."

V. Saenz-Daza

LEAPING INTO THE AIR while holding each other's hands, dance sophomores Alexandra Perez and Brandon Ross travel across the stage together. This piece, which only showcased sophomore dancers, was titled "Fortitude" and was choreographed by guest artist Charlotte Campagnulo.

K. McLendon

LYING ON THE STAGE, dance junior Mason Hart gets covered by a large piece of felt during the dance "The Noise Within" as a symbol of his defeat against darkness.

V. Saenz-Daza

photos by Valentina Saenz-Daza and Keegan McLendon
design by Vedhasa Kallam