

LAST DANCE.

Laila Saini (12) dances in the first pep rally of the year. "I have been on Mane Attraction for 3 years now, but I was on Lionettes, the JV team, one year, my freshman year," she said. "It felt very bittersweet, pep rallies are so fun to perform at and to watch, so these most recent ones being my last ever definitely made me appreciate them and not want to leave high school behind," Saini said. DANCE TEAM BREAKS TRADITION
AND DANCES WITH THE CHEER TEAM.

THIS IS NOT A DRILL.

JUST KEEP SWIMMING.

Natasha Goodwin (11) poses as part of the swim team for the Fox 35 Pep Rally. "Most swimmers are very shy because of our sport, so we're not like a football team, where we have these cute uniforms we can wear every day. So that's why I was telling people, like, bring you caps, bring your goggles", she said. "It shows me people's true side. Because when you're doing a competitive sport, people will be competitive in a certain way, and they'll show who they really are as a person", said Goodwin. Photo by: Gianna Fusco

OUR FAV BAND.

Nolin O'Brien (10) performs in a band at the talent show and a pep rally. "I like playing music for people, it's fun", he said. "Talent show felt fine, because it was just like parents and stuff. It wasn't really like that, too bad. I know the pep rally was a little more scary than that, because it was like, people that I know and see everyday", O'Brien said. Photo by: Haidyn Dykes

MASCOT SAW IT ALL.

Aubrie Sandifer (12) gets everyone hype for the pep rally. "I think I'll miss most, probably the school spirit. Just really showing that, no matter what part of the school you're in, if you're in the sports, or if you're into the arts, or if you're into really science based things, everybody just comes together and just really cheers on Oviedo as a whole," Sandifer said. FOX 35 KNOWS WHO WE ARE.

Avery Stephens (12) expresses how bonded the girls volleyball team is. "I think people don't realize how much love we all truly have for each other. I think a lot of people sometimes just see us playing, you know, they don't really know what goes on inside and at our practices. I think my favorite pep rally moment was just like this year, being a senior, and, you know, being Top Dog and stuff. So I think just, you know, being with everyone there, and just enjoying the moment," Stephens said. Photo by: Gianna Fusco

HAPPY BIRTHDAY FROM OHS.

Dr. Daniel gets surprised for her birthday during a pep rally. "I was in shock. I kept thinking who organized this? How did the students know?" she said. Dr. Daniel was very thrilled to have this shared experience with all the students. "I love OHS, so that was very special to me. OHS is a big part of my life for the last 15 years, so celebrating with all the lions feels like celebrating with your family when you are little. Same 'awe' feeling you have when you are 8 and blow out your candles on your cake", Dr. Daniel said. "So, the crown she handed me was over the top - orange, glitter, big, and bold! I love it, and I still have it! It is in my office and reminds me daily about the Oviedo Lion family and 'Belonging'. Being part of our community is important to me, and I appreciated 'our moment' together celebrating," she said. Photo by: Brayden Appel

CUTE KIDNIE.

Mr. Furiosi dances in the pep rally with his son, William Furiosi III, in the first pep rally. "I am deathly afraid of dancing. I practiced so much at home so that I would not look like an absolute fool," Furiosi said. Photo by: Gianna Fusco

IDK WHO.

Shane Goodwin (11) pairs up teachers with their kids at a pep rally. "My heart dropped. I was like, oh my gosh, this cannot be real. You have to go in front of everyone", she said. Goodwin got picked for the pep rally 3 years in a row. Getting help from her class, "I just looked and saw where everyone was pointing", Goodwin said. Photo by: Graceline Bland
