

ONE LAST TIME

Students describe their favorite end of year event

North Relays

"It's just the amount of people that go there and the performances that happen, it's just that the energy is so high and it's just really fun. Whether your competing or watching it's just extremely entertaining."

Luan Nguyen, 11

Prom

"I went to prom three times in my highschool career and I almost went four but covid cancelled it. So I'm a pretty big prom fan, and I like to dance."

Arlene Duff, 12

Getting Out

"My favorite end of year event is probably just getting out of school just because you know we're out of school and we get the break and that's it."

Micah Godwin, 11

1| Raising her right arm, junior Alex Riffel takes the NHS pledge during the lighting ceremony. Taking the pledge meant that the members promised to live by the four pillars of success: Scholarship, Leadership, Service and Character. photo by robert loen

2| Getting a better view, junior Vince Cassmeyer climbs on his friend's shoulders to watch bubble ball at the spring pep assembly. "Me and all my friends were on the gym floor watching all of the events which were fun to watch," Cassmeyer said. "It was just a great and overall fun assembly to be at." photo by teryn debey

3| Testing gravity, juniors Hudson Boldt and Teddy Koller compete at The Equalizer at the Charity picnic. The Equalizer was one of the top games held at the Charity picnic. photo by alexis kelly

Raising the trophy, sophomores Oliver Goering and Luis Guzman celebrate after their win at the regatta on March 31. "I felt like a champion getting out of the water knowing I was the champion of the SMN 2022 Regatta alongside my lifelong pal," Goering said. photo by carlos mata

4| In the lobby after the performance, senior Angie Zumbrunnen talks to sophomore Scarlett Marchman, and freshmen Gabriella Keller, and Maggie Bartlett about the show. "The show was so funny, me and my friends were dying laughing the entire time," Keller said. photo by neavah dull

5| Head on, junior Cole Hageman dives in during the 2022 Spring Assembly to win a game of Hungry Hungry Hippos. "With it having been two years since the last full assembly, we had missed out on a lot of fun activities," Hageman said. "Getting down to the court and being able to participate in this activity truly represents all of the change that we have been through in the last couple of years." photo by robert loen

6| Giving out high fives, Principal David Ewers celebrates his win during the Hocker Grove 8th grade orientation assembly that was full of fun activities to get a head start on welcoming the class of 2026. "I definitely didn't wanna wear a costume all day so I was pretty intent on winning," Ewers said. "I thought it'd be funny to do a victory lap and loosen up the crowd a bit since they were a little stiff." photo by robert loen

7| Raising his stick, junior Gage Chapman plays "mary" at the spring pep assembly. "Pep assemblies are always super fun to do as a drumline," Chapman said. "We work really hard all thoughtout the year, so it's nice to be able to show off a little bit and get everyone hyped up." photo by teryn debey