Solé Denton

My name is Solé Denton and I am currently a freshman here at VCU! I am undecided on my major as I love art, but I am also very interested in crime/forensic studies. I have been doing art since I was little, however I just recently got into painting and drawing. I am inspired by the world around me and the controversy that comes with it. I hope my work communicates the idea that we don't need to conform to society and being ourselves is the only way to live. Live unapologetically.

HAD ENOUGH

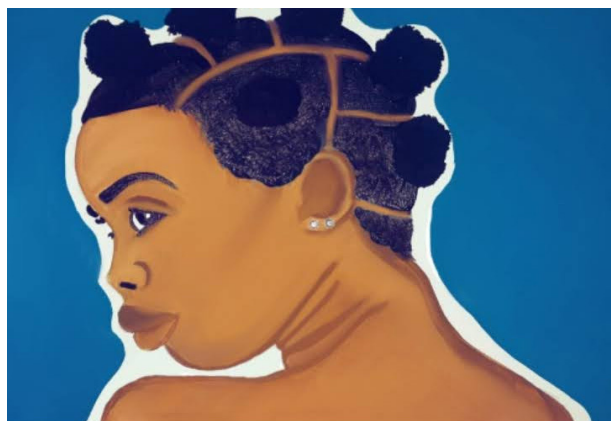

“Had Enough” speaks for itself. Black women have had enough. Don’t touch our hair, don’t underestimate us, and most definitely don’t test us. We deserve better and we aren’t afraid to take what we are owed. We’ve had enough.
