Brookhaven names Student of the Year

By Kamila Vargas-Gonzalez

A student stands in the hallway of the Dallas College Brookhaven Campus on her phone, smiling. She is wearing a blue shirt and her long hair is tied back. She has her phone in hand and is using it to type a message. She is standing in a hallway, surrounded by other students who are walking past her.

Student Government Association (SGA) President Gisselle Lopez, a Dallas College alumnus, visits the campus to discuss the future of SGA. Lopez said she was excited to see the progress made since her last visit.

In less than six months, ChatGPT has become a household name. The AI service can write paragraphs, essays, speeches and fill in exams. So many people have flocked to the bot for a glimpse of its power that the servers have to be shut down at times. It is a test of how artificial intelligence can be used to improve human intelligence.

Although students will have to remain the following fall semester, many are already preparing for their alternatives teacher certification program, they will be able to work as the “teachers on record.”

Dallas College’s education program offers different associate degrees in teaching and was expanded to a four-year program in the Fall 2021 semester. The program currently has around 720 students enrolled, and is expected to continue growing.

Robert DeHaas, the vice provost for education, said: “From this spring to last spring the program experienced about 35% enrollment growth.”

The approximate program is a four-year first-year program that will be held on campus.
